Chessman Granted Hearing On Latest Maneuver For Life

Marin Judge To Consider 'New Legal Point' On Wednesday

Convict-author Caryl Chessman's attorneys will get another chance to try to save Chessman from his May 2 rendezvous with death at a preliminary hearing set for 10 a.m. Wednesday before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli in Marin Superior Court.

George T. Davis, Chessman's attorney, filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus this morning in Marin Superior Court on a "new legal point" which the attorney says has never been raised in Chessman's 12-year-fight for life.

If the petition is denied Wednesday morning, Davis says he will appeal to higher courts. If the judge feels the new legal point has merit, he can call for a full-scale hearing at which Chessman would be present.

Davis and his new team of defense associates charge that the death penalty convictions imposed on Chessman in Los Angeles in 1948 were obtained by "hidden ball" and "sandbag" tactics through the use of "legal fiction."

The petition, filed with County Clerk George S. Jones, makes this contention: Chessman was convicted of two counts of robbery, for which life imprisonment is the maximum penalty. The death penalty can be invoked only when kidnapping for robbery is accompanied by bodily harm, but bodily harm was not charged.

Chessman was also charged with sex perversion, which also carries a maximum sentence of a prison term not death, the petition continues.

Davis declared that the jury at that time was instructed that conviction on sex perversion amounted in law to a finding of bodily harm. The jury followed this "illegal instruction" and "thereby illegally

Youth Drowns Off Pt. Reyes Coast

A 19-year-old youth on a camping trip with two friends drowned yesterday when he slipped from a rocky cliff on the Pt. Reyes coast, falling 50 feet to the choppy waters in an ocean caldron below.

Wayne Gearhart, 19, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Gearhart of Richmond, fell from a craggy cliff north of Elephant Rock at McClure's Beach at 10:30 a.m. The Gearharts have younger daughters.

He had been scaling the cliff with two companions who hung helplessly to the sheer rock as their friend plummented into the water. Raymond M. Galantin, 19, of Richmond, scampered back up the rock cliff and ran for help. Jack Butler Hendrix, 19, stationed at Travis Air Force Base Hospital, watched Gearhart fight the buffeting waters, trying to kick off his shoes as he was swept 150 feet to sea.

Just when it looked as though he might be able to pull himself up on some rocks, Gearhart slipped under and never came up again, Hendrix reported.

A Coast Guard helicopter searched the area until 2:35 p.m., when it had to turn back to base for fuel. A Coast Guard cutter did a "good and risky" job patrolling the waters close to the cliff until after 7 p.m. but found no trace of the body, reported Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen.

Galantin met Harold E. Rivara of 2 Rancho road, San Anselmo, close to the scene of the accident. Rivara sent his 17-year-old son Gary running a mile up the beach to the ranch home of John McClure, Inverness, for help. McClure notified the Coast Guard at 11:02 a.m.

The boys had brought sleeping bags and food to the Marin coast Saturday and had spent the night on Drake's Beach, Christensen reported. They arose at 7:30 a.m. to start a day hiking and exploring the Marin coast line.

When they got to the "hog back" shaped cliff, Gearhart started to climb down the precipice followed by Hendrix and Galantin. Gearhart had moved about 30 feet down the cliff when he lost his grip and fell, Christensen said.

Henrix said he turned around to see if Galantin was following and in that moment Gearhart fell off the rock.

P-TA Protests Film Scheduled In Marin

An outraged West End School Parent-Teacher Assn. has protested showing of one of the new Hollywood "adult" motion pictures scheduled to run in Blumenfeld theaters next month.

In a letter to Al Goodwin, manager of the Rafael Theater in San Rafael, the members requested the movie version of the Tennessee Williams story, "Suddenly Last Summer" be limited to adult viewing only. To insure admission of adults only, the letter suggests, "Require proof of voting age before allowing attendance."

The letter signed by Mrs. W. E. Vernon, motion picture chairman, says of the film: "The plot treads its way through various types of insanity," and, quoting an excerpt from California Parent-Teacher Magazine of February, 1960, continues: "The story scrapes the bottom of the barrel and comes up with dregs of human depravity, homosexuality and cannibalism."

The West End P-TA is mailing monthly movie rating lists based on the national and state P-TA magazine reviews to its members to "aid them in choosing their child's mental food with something of the care used in feeding his stomach."

The letter asks? "How can we build sound, healthy minds and morals by feeding children a weekly or monthly diet of attractive immorality, smut or depravities?"

The Weather Bureau forecast more showers likely tonight, with variable clouds. Rain is also probable late tomorrow.

Market Owner Plans To Run For Supervisor

George H. Ludy, 54, owner of Rite Price Market in Inverness, today announced his intention to run for county supervisor against incumbent James Marshall of the West Marin supervisorial district.

He took out petition papers from County Clerk George S. Jones and is circulating them for signatures.

Ludy, a resident of Marin about 50 years, has been a member of the Marin County Planning Commission for five years.

He was chairman of the Inverness School District board of trustees for 12 years, president of the Inverness Public Utilities District and president of the West Marin Lions Club.

Washington's Rep. Mack Dies On Floor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Russell V. Mack (R-Wash.) collapsed and died on the House floor today.

Mack was stricken while standing near the rostrum to answer a quorum call. He toppled to the floor.

Five colleagues carried him off the floor to a sofa in the adjacent speaker's lobby.

Dr. George W. Calver, the attending physician at the capitol, was summoned and, after an examination announced that Mack was dead.

Mack had served in Congress, representing the 3rd District of Washington, since June, 1947. He was the second-ranking Republican on the Public Works Committee, which has jurisdiction over rivers and harbors and highway construction.

Mack's death was announced to a hushed House within minutes by Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash.)

Mack was the second member of Congress to die this month. Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) died of a cerebral hemorrhage earlier in the month.

Hearing Starts On NWP Plea To Cut Service

Tunnel Repair Cited Unless Line To Sausalito Dropped

By RANDALL GOULD

A Corte Madera tunnel repair job likely to cost more than half a million dollars confronts the Northwestern Pacific Railroad if it is not allowed prompt abanonment of its freight service to Sausalito, an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in San Francisco was told today.

Hearing on a petition for abandonment of a seven and one-half mile branch line opened at the New Mint building this morning before ICC examiner Paul C. Albus.

BASIC ARGUMENTS

Attorneys for the railroad already had before Albus a statement in questionnaire form, covering such points as the rail line's history since 1870 and two basic arguments for abandonment: Rapidly diminishing business due to truck competition, and need for immediate costly repair work.

Salvage value of the line was estimated at only $22,450. It runs from Sausalito through Mill Valley and Corte Madera to join the main line from Tiburon at Detour, just south of Greenbrae.

Petition to abandon was filed last Nov. 9, alleging decline in freight to less than half the 1954 level.

FIRST WITNESS

Harry M. Williamson, top maintenance engineer for the Southern Pacific Co., which solely owns NWP, was the first witness and remained on the stand throughout the morning. His testimony dealt exclusively with the allegedly hazardous state of a 2,173-foot tunnel between Mill Valley and Corte Madera.

"Something has to be done right away," he said after describing decay shown in recent inspections.

"This tunnel has got to retimbered, or concreted, or gunited, to keep it in service. There are just too many cases where decay is in evidence. It's getting 'ripe,' as we call it in tunnel parlance."

Questioned by attorney Randolph Karr, acting for Southern Pacific, Williamson estimated the cost of repair at between $610,000 for concrete and $480,000 if only timber is used, which he did not recommend. The tunnel is now most-

OFFER TO RUSSIA

West Proposes Unit To Police Disarming

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western powers offered Russia today a detailed, veto-free blueprint for an international disarmament organization to police an East-West disarmament agreement.

The chief function of the organization would be to get world disarmament actually under way. One of the key provisions of the plan called for an immediate East-West ban on space satellites with nuclear warheads.

The Soviet reaction was not encouraging, and a breakout from this latest impasse appeared unlikely pending results of the Camp David talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Western plan was presented by Italy's deputy chief delegate, Francisco Cavaletti, who called it a necessary first stage of disarmament.

In his presentation, Cavaletti outlined simple tasks the organization could start performing immediately:

Be the receiving office for notification of space shots.

Collect data on the present site of armed forces and arms.

Verify the reductions of these forces and arms.

Install machinery to verify a ban on launching of military weapons into outer space.

Receive advance notification of long-range missile shots.

Install a system to control a prohibition of nuclear materials for military purposes.

Verify the transfer of nuclear stocks from military to peaceful uses.

Set up procedures for inspection to prevent secret rearmament.

Establish a surprise attack warning system.

Vandale Strike At Tamalpais High

Vandals broke into the old cafeteria and mimeograph room at Tamalpais High School last night and left the room in shambles, Deputy Sheriff Fredrick Marcus reported today.

Night watchman Herbert Cole of San Anselmo discovered the damage at 11:20 p.m. and called the sheriff.

Investigators found oil spilled over the floor, paper scattered throughout the room, and a tank used for washing stencils overturned. The vandals had broken a window to get inside.

2 Men Escape As Houseboat Sinks

Brave Stormy Bay To Swim To Island

A six-room houseboat being towed to Sausalito broke up and sank off Angel Island yesterday as two men aboard swam to safety through storm-tossed waters.

"You can't imagine what it's like, being inside a sinking boat and trying to swim out," said James R. Burke, 35, of Sausalito.

Burke and his companion, Fred Kappes, 34, of Cotati, swam to the island, dodging lumber from the houseboat that was breaking up.

Kappes had escaped from the sinking boat through a window, and Burke went out through the door. Both clung to the roof — which remained about four inches above water —until the surf tore it off.

CUT, BRUISED

Cut and bruised by the flying lumber, the two men reached the beach. The visibility was so low that no one in the Angel Island Light Station noticed them.

Finally an Army boat went by and crewmen saw them through binoculars, but couldn't get close because of the rough seas. The Army notified the Coast Guard and two men from the light station climbed down the rocks and found Burke and Kappes.

The rescued men were given hot baths, food and clean clothes at the Coast Guard station. They finally made it home to Sausalito at 9:30 p.m. after an Army ferry boat landed at the island and took them to Ft. Baker.

ILL-FATED TRIP

Burke and Kappes actually began their ill-fated trip at 6 a.m. Saturday. They had repaired and fixed up the houseboat for its owners, Grant Elms, of San Francisco, who had intended to rent it in Sausalito.

The two men began towing the barge with an outboard motorboat from the end of a canal off Hunters Point at the lower end of San Francisco. They got it to the bay about 2 a.m. Sunday and tied it to a dolphin.

At 10 a.m. a tugboat from Arques Shipyard in Sausalito began the long, slow tow job to Marin. The weather was ideal and calm, Burke said.

Sometime around 4 p.m. the

MABEL HALL PIERCE
Six Decades in Marin

Mabel Pierce, Widow Of Air Pioneer, Dies

Mrs. Mabel Hall Pierce, a resident of Marin County since 1900 and daughter of the man for whom Larkspur's Henry C. Hall School is named, died yesterday in a local hospital after an illness.

Mrs. Pierce had resided at a rest home at 908 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, in recent years. Most of her Marin residence, however, was in Corte Madera, where she came in 1900 when her father became principal of the Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

EX-ASSESSOR'S SISTER

She was a sister of George W. Hall, former longtime Marin County assessor.

Her first husband, Eugene B. Ely, made the first landing of an airplane on board a ship in history, setting down a Curtiss biplane on the deck of the cruiser Pennsylvania as it lay at anchor off San Francisco in January, 1911.

Mrs. Pierce was born in Menlo Park. After her marriage to Ely in St. Raphael's Church in 1907, she toured the country with him as he gave early-day flying exhibitions. His 1911 stunt of landing on a ship's deck proved the possibility of an entirel new concept of airpower, and paved the way for the development of the aircraft carrier.

OTHER SURVIVORS

After Ely's death, his widow married Phil Cross, who also preceded her in death. Her third marriage was to Richard Pierce. They separated several years ago.

Besides the ex-assessor, she is survived by another brother, Henry C. Hall Jr., San Bruno educator, and a sister, Mrs. Mercy Hall Brevig of San Rafael.

Requiem High Mass for Mrs. Pierce will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Raphael's Church, with the cortege forming at 9:15 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the funeral chapel.

I-J Section Tells Saving-Loan Story

The Independent-Journal includes a special 12-page section today, telling all about the new home of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. at 990 Fifth avenue, San Rafael.

The new building was dedicated Saturday. Huge crowds were on hand during the weekend for open house, which will continue this week and next.

The section describes the interior furnishings, tells about architectural features and architects, construction and physical plant, the officers, directors and personnel of Marin's oldest savings and loan association.

Ike, Macmillan Start Talks On Reply To Russ

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan began vital work at Camp David, Md., this afternoon on a compromise reply to Russia's latest proposal for a nuclear weapons test ban.

The chief executive and his long-time British friend flew by helicopter to this presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains, 65 miles from Washington.

Macmillan had conferred with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at the British embassy in Washington for two and one-half hours before he joined Eisenhower at the White House for the flight to Camp David.

It was understood that the embassy conference cleared the way for rapid progress at Camp David, not only on the nuclear test control problem, but also on a review of Berlin, disarmament and other major issues due to come up at the East-West summit meeting at Paris in May.

Herter said the conference which he and his aides held with Macmillan and a panel of British officials went off "all right." It covered a number of subjects, he remarked.

Macmillan reported merely that "we had some technical exposition."

Senate Probers Warn Of 'Crime Syndicate'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee charged today a "crime syndicate" is extending sinister and mounting power across the nation in a plot to rule the economy.

The committee's four Democratic members called for creation of a vast new federal police intelligence agency to crush the scheme.

The four Republican members vigorously opposed that proposal, contending it smacked too strongly of the national secret police idea.

They said it could lead to grave abuse of innocent persons; that it might itself become a handy aid to corrupt officials in league with the underworld, and might actually impede the Justice Department's current war on crime.

The bipartisan committee, chairmanned by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), was unanimous, however, in findings that:

1. "The grip of hoodlums and racketeers on the American economy continues to grow."

2. James R. Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union, is an ally of some of the mobsters the report denounced.

3. Alliance with corrupt labor leaders is a major tool used to further the alleged conspiracy.

The committee's findings were in the third installment of a four-volume report to the Senate on its 1959 investigations. The committee's authority expires Thursday, but a move is afoot to extend these powers until Jan. 31, or shift them to another group.

Budget Ironed Out, Legislature Turns To Smog, Education

$2.4 Million Spending Measure Approved Just Under Deadline

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The budget session is over but the California Legislature lingers on.

Passage of a $2,481,101,813 state budget Saturday night left the lawmakers free to get to work in earnest on special session business.

The Assembly will open debate in a day or so on smog control legislation which would require afterburners on all new cars.

A "master plan" for higher education awaits action by Senate and Assembly committees.

It probably will take a week or more to finish up on these and 38 other subjects placed before the special session by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The governor described himself as "generally very well pleased" with the 1960-61 budget. It was approved barely two hours before the midnight deadline for the budget session Saturday.

Brown, however, refrained from saying whether he would blue-pencil any of the items.

The final version totals four million dollars more than he asked for, and it's close to two million dollars out of balance.

The smog and college legislation would boost the anticipated deficit by an additional four and one-half million dollars.

Conference terms, reconciling Senate-Assembly budget differences, provided funds for a 6 per cent pay raise for all 115,000 state employees. University of California and state college academic personnel will get 7½ per cent.

10 PER CENT HIKE

There's money, too, for a 10 per cent boost for the lowest-paid echelon — janitors, clerks and domestic workers. All the raises take effect July 1.

The budget, as it went to the governor, carries no money for privately printed elementary readers. But it does give the Department of Education some leeway in purchasing textbooks in the future.

The department had sought an additional $2,555,000, on top of its $12,362,065 textbook budget, to buy completed readers from three publishers who refuse to lease their plates to the state printing plant on a royalty basis.

COST LIMIT

The conference committee wrote in terms authorizing the department to use available funds to buy privately printed books so long as they don't exceed state printing plant costs by 10 per cent.

Opponents of the disputed contract charged that it was 21 per cent higher. All textbooks have been turned out by the state plant here since 1931.

The budget conferees restored $942,000 to continue the California Disaster Office, granted additional money to the Fair Employment Practices Commission to hold 10 meetings a month, and allowed $331,000 to finance veterans' claim service by a state agency.

OTHER TERMS

Other terms provided $165,000 for educational television at state colleges, and $40,000 for high school cadet corps uniforms and other expenses. The conferees knocked out the extra $1,400,000 voted by the Senate for the Motor Vehicle Department and which Director Robert I. McCarthy said he didn't want.

The final version sped through the Assembly 62-15 and the Senate 28-9. Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell (R-Los Angeles), house minority leader, said he voted against it because it "contains many non-essential items and irrational philosophies of state expenditures."

"Wasteful, political bureaucracy rushes on," he said.

Bomb Blasts Prelude To Air Disaster

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Three bomb blasts in separate sections of Oklahoma City Saturday night were the grim prelude to an air disaster which took five lives yesterday.

There were no injuries in the blasts which damaged homes and autos owned by three production employees of the Oklahoma Publishing Co.

The explosions occurred within 90 minutes of each other. Officers called for demolition experts from Ft. Sill, Okla., to determine the nature of the explosions.

A giant Army transport helicopter which carried the demolition experts here, crashed during a landing approach after the return to Ft. Sill. All five crewmen aboard were killed.

The blasts damaged the homes of Mrs. Walter Shery Jr., Bill Martin and Alvin Winn.

Martin, Winn and Mrs. Sherry took leave of their jobs here for temporary employment with the Portland Oregonian and Journal last November and December.

The Portland newspapers have been under a labor strike since last November.

Princess Margriet, daughter of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands, was born in Ottawa, Canada, during World War II.

Adults Blamed For Faults Of Children

WASHINGTON (AP)—If there is anything wrong with the younger generation, the adults of this country have only themselves to blame.

That sentiment, expressed by speaker after speaker, set the tone today as 7,000 delegates to the White House Conference on Children and Youth swung into their first full day's work. The meetings continue through Friday.

The cure for what ails youth, they said, must be found by treating the moral sickness of their elders.

'BASIC PROBLEM'

"The basic problem of the young is not complicated, it is the apathy and perfidy and poor examples of the adult generations," said Miriom D. Hanks of Salt Lake City, an elder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Hanks' theme, in a speech prepared for one of the five assemblies during the day's activities, was echoed by Prof. Abraham Heschel of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York.

"We, the grownups have delegated our moral responsibility to the schools, the social agencies, or community funds," he said in his prepared remarks.

CITES NEEDS

"We have time for hobbies, for watching baseball; we have no time to help the needy, to sustain the sick, to offer companionship to the lonely, no time to offer guidance to our children. What we need are not more school buildings and more playgrounds, but also the restoration of the home, the resurrection of the parent as a person worthy of being revered as an example of devotion to responsibility."

President Eisenhower, formally opening the conference last night, told the delegates to beware of the tendency to generalize pessimistically about the youth of this country.

"I have an unshakable faith in the overwhelming majority of fine, earnest, high-spirited youngsters who comprise this rising generation of Americans," he said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Reds Welcome Nikita

MARSEILLES, France (UPI)—A crowd of shouting, flag-waving Communists broke through police lines and greeted Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev so warmly today that they scared him momentarily and dented a fender of his car.

The demonstration came while Khrushchev was touring this southern French seaport, which is a center of Communist loyalties.

Castro Hits U. S.

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro left a sickbed yesterday to beat the drums of fear of invasion and whip up enthusiasm among his Cubans to dig deeper into their pockets to finance a defense war chest.

Looking haggard from the effects of the grippe, the bearded prime minister charged big American business interests were organizing armies of mercenaries to invade Cuba.

Blow To Frondizi

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi's forces ran a poor third in returns today from Argentina's midterm congressional elections.

Initial tabulations indicated Frondizi's Radical Party would still have a 16-seat majority in the House of Deputies, the lower chamber of Congress. But there was a strong hint that the huge popular vote cast against the government would force it to ease its belt-tightening policies. In a violent followup today to the vote against Frondizi, political opponent dynamited two Buenos Aires power stations.

MANCHESTER, N. H. (UPI)—A prisoner beat a guard to death today with a wooden club, believed to be a cribbage board, and escaped from the Hillsborough County Jail.

An intensive search was begun for the escapee, William F. Murphy, 20, of Manchester, who police said has a long police record.

Iraq Gives Clemency

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—In a clemency move that may bring Communist repercussions, Iraqi Premier Karim Abdel Kassem has commuted death sentences against ex-Premier Fadhid Jamali and seven other officials prominent at the United Nations and well liked in Western circles.

The Iraqi People's Court had passed the death sentences in the tense months after the July, 1958 revolution which toppled the monarchy.

End Of Steam Era

DETROIT (UPI)—Bells tolled the requiem of the era of steam locomotive passenger trains yesterday.

The last regularly scheduled passenger runs by two giant steam locomotives — Engines 6319 and 6322 of the Grand Trunk and Western Railroad—carried some 2,012 persons on a trip from here to Durand, Mich., and back.

In Chicago, James Shea, president of the Railroad Public Relations Assn. and general manager of the Southern Pacific, said the Assn. of American Railroads probably would recognize the 120-mile round trip as the last major regular run in the country.

Polaris Sub Speedup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy today announced a 52-million-dollar speed up in its Polaris missile submarine program.

It said funds will be switched from other sources to put extra crews at work on seven Polaris-firing submarines so they can be put into operation ahead of schedule.

The Polaris—the Navy's underseas 1,500-mile hydrogen warhead weapon—fizzled on its first ignition test off Southern California's San Clemente Island.

But yesterday's failure signalled the start of an intensive test program that the observers are optimistically predicting will put the Polaris on fleet duty by the end of the year. It was the first underwater test of the two-stage missile with propellant in it.

The other missing plane vanished Thursday. It was piloted by Frank Riviera, 27, of San Carlos, who took off from nearby Belmont for Modesto. Riviera had as passengers Robert Hyde, 32, of Belmont and Mrs. Hilda Mimmo of Palo Alto.

3 New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII named three more cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today but kept their identities secret from the public.

Vatican sources said the pope told the College of Cardinals of the appointment at a secret consistory called to approve the designation of seven previously announced cardinals, including two Asians and a Negro.

The sources said the three new names would be announced at a future consistory.

The disclosure was a surprise. It means the College of Cardinals will be raised to an unprecedented 88.

Top Court Upholds Spy's Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld the espionage conviction of Russian Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, highest ranking Soviet spy ever caught in this country.

Abel was convicted in federal court in Brooklyn in 1957 for conspiring to steal United States military secrets and send them to the Kremlin. His sentence was $3,000 fine and 30 years imprisonment, which he is serving.

Justice Felix Frankfurter delivered the 5-4 decision.

The decision was reached after the justices heard arguments for the second time.

James B. Donovan, New York City attorney appointed to defend Abel, contended in appealing to the Supreme Court that Abel's rights under the Constitution were violated in a search of his Manhattan hotel room and in seizure of evidence by federal agents who had no search warrant.

Court Denies Hearing To Truman Aides

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today for the third time denied a hearing to Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, two former Truman administration officials convicted in 1956 of conspiring to defraud the government in an income tax case.

The court's brief order means the two will soon be called to start serving the two-year jail sentences imposed upon them in 1957. They were also fined $2,500 each.

BOAT

weather started to get bad and windows on the houseboat were breaking. The boat started to take water, and the men, started two pumps.

The tug towed the boat into the lee of Angel Island. "The skipper saw we were in trouble, and we tried to signal him we were going down. The next thing I knew the stern went down and we swam out . . . ," Burke said.

Thirty minutes after it happened, there was "nothing left to put in a matchbox," he added. Outside of their cuts and bruises, the pair suffered no other injuries. "We were pretty lucky," Burke said.

He and Kappes were taking a boat to Angel Island today to see if anything was left to salvage. Two pumps weighing 150 pounds apiece were thrown on the beach by the heavy seas. "In between ducking lumber and swimming, we tried to tie lines to everything we could," Burke said.

The Sausalito man lives on the houseboat Ricky Ann at Gate 5.

On March 13, he had been sent to Napa State Hospital for observation and then brought back to county jail.

Last night about 8:30 o'clock, Jailer Edward Koehn noticed water flooding the hallways of the jail and found the youth's isolation cell in shambles. He had torn up the pillow and tossed feathers all over the cell, torn two mattress, broke the toilet and turned on the water to flood the area.

With the permission of Probation Officer Walter Busher, Sgt. Vernon Ward signed commitment papers and sent the youth back to Napa on a 72-hour commitment.

supplied the missing and necessary allegation of bodily harm," Davis alleges.

Three other lawyers who are now associated with Davis includes Barbara Warner of Los Angeles, who helped in researching the new legal point; Paul M. Bosner of Los Angeles and G. H. Van Harvey of Sausalito, a law associate of Davis. Both Rosalie Asher and A. L. Wirin have been notified of the petition, Davis said.

Judge Martinelli cleared the decks for a quick action on the new petition. He indicated he wants an expeditious hearing and decision because he feels there have been too many delays already and "great embarrassment to our system of jurisprudence."

Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich said he would have to confer with the state attorney general to see who would represent the people. "Chances are that the attorney general may appear in the case if it is set for a hearing," said Wessich. "In that case, I'll probably appear as friend of the court and as enemy of Chessman!"

ly timbered, he said, but evidence has been found of bonfires built within it and William said this could at any time start a tunnel fire.

"A tunnel fire is the worst fire in the world," he said. A tunnel is just a horizontal chimney with a terrific draft."

Williamson added that a cave-in was also a possibility. The usual thrice weekly freight trains are now held to 10 miles per hour in the tunnel, he said.

Robert N. Lowry, appearing on behalf of 10 principal Sausalito shipping interests, questioned the witness in an effort to show that the tunnel figures were for extra good construction.

William said, "It's my responsibility, and if a tunnel caves in on a train, it's the same whether it's a main line or a branch line."

He admitted that some main line tunnels were of standards below those contemplated for the Corte Madera tube, but said the standard corresponded to the over-all maintenance picture for the railroad.

Lowry asked whether $610,000 had been budgeted for tunnel repairs. Williamson said it had not. He estimated that, if undertaken, the work would require five to six years.

Other witnesses for the railroad were expected to testify to dismal financial prospects of the branch line and alleged ability of at least 11 truck carrirers to provide ample service

Witnesses are also expected in rebuttal, to show concern of the American Distilling Co., which has been in Sausalito for 25 years, and of many postwar industries that rail freight service be maintained.

Those attending the hearings, which are expected to continue through tomorrow, include E. Warren McGuire, assistant Marin County counsel, and four attorneys for railroad brotherhoods. McGuire said the Marin County Board of Supervisors has filed protest against the proposed abandonment, but he expects that his own role would be largely that of observer.

A Fairfax housewife rolled her small foreign car over a six-foot embankment on Shoreline highway near Stinson Beach yesterday, emerged without a scratch — and was jailed on a drunken driving charge.

Mrs. Katherine H. Acheson, 41, at 11 Rocca drive, told arresting California Highway Patrolman Richard Topham she had a few drinks at home and decided to go for a drive.

At 4:40 p.m. her car left the road about a quarter of a mile north of the Surf Club and landed upside down on dried marshland, Topham said.

It was a total wreck.

Chiropractor's Role In Health Explained

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Do you know what a chiropractor does? Many folks make the mistake of thinking that a chiropractor gives massages to people with sore backs. That's far from the truth.

Actually, a doctor of Chiropractics works with a person's nerves. You see, the center for all nerves is in the brain. These nerves flow down through the spine to all parts of the body.

Often these soft nerves are pinched by the hard bones of the spine. Sickness then results . . . for no part of the body can work properly without nerve energy from the brain.

By correcting defects in the spine, chiropractors have been able to restore this nerve energy and help folks with almost every type of sickness you can name.

Chiropractors use X-ray and other scientific instruments to determine whether your spine is in line. They have been so successful in getting sick people well that more than 500 insurance companies now pay claims for Chiropractic care.

Sausalito Man Found Dead In Bed

Louis G. Corthay of 160 Santa Rosa avenue, Sausalito, who was always known to be prompt for his appointments, missed his last one yesterday.

TAM CENTRE GOES UP IN FLAMES

The two-story building formerly known as Tamalpais Centre burned Friday night, to the alarm of many Ross Valley residents. But it was no disaster. The Kentfield Fire Department put the torch to the old structure to get rid of it and give firemen practice. The building, on College of Marin property, was given to the college by the Marin Stadium Assn. after it was condemned as a fire hazard in 1958. College authorities decided to have it burned. But the fire caused the Kentfield department's telephone line to be choked with anxious calls, and hundreds drove out to watch the building burn. (George Wheeler photo)

Shots Fired In Family Ruckus; Man Arrested

A Santa Venetia truck driver was in jail today on charges including assault and battery after a family ruckus in which three shots were fired.

His wife and three children and his parents-in-law were in hiding for fear of vegeance, sheriff's officers reported.

Jailed was Bruce Thompson, 28, driver for a San Rafael bottling company.

The trouble started, reported Deputy Sheriff Robert DiGrazia, when Thompson and his wife, Barbara, 29, arrived at 5 p.m. yesterday at the home at 814 Hacienda drive, Santa Venetia, which they and their three children shared with Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Buckley.

Thompson and his wife got into a fight, said Di Grazia. He struck his wife, she reported. She ordered him from the house.

At that point, according to Mrs. Thompson and her mother, Thompson grabbed his 5-year-old son and 6-year-old daughter and threatened to kill everybody in the house when his wife and her mother tried to stop him.

Thompson started out of the house with the children, the deputy sheriff was told. In front of the house, his father-in-law leaped on him, knocking him to the ground.

The older son, Michael Thompson, 13, ran to a telephone and called the sheriff's office. Meanwhile, Buckley after a brief battle with his son-in-law, ran into the house and locked the door.

Thompson smashed his way in through a glass patio door, and came face-to-face with his father-in-law, holding a Belgian automatic.

Buckley said he fired once over his son-in-law's head in the house. Thompson ran, Buckley told DiGrazia. He fired twice more as his son-in-law dashed across the backyard and vaulted over the fence.

DiGrazia and Deputy Sheriff Gerald Fries took Thompson into custody at the home of Maj. William W. Byrum at 816 Hacienda drive. He was booked at the county jail on charges of disturbing the peace, assault and battery and malicious mischief after his wife signed a citizen's arrest complaint.

Mrs. Thompson, her children and parents immediately went into hiding in case Thompson should make bail and go looking for them, DeGrazia said.

Seven cafeteria employees of the San Jose School District belong to the Sonoma organization. "We feel a hot lunch program important enough to drive to Santa Rosa once a month for the meeting," said Mrs. Avilla.

Better Start Looking Now For Beckett's Replacement

Announcement of the pending resignation of John C. Beckett from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District board came as a shock. It was a shock to Marin, to his fellow directors and to the staff of the transit district.

Everyone at all connected with the planning of rapid transit in the Bay Area has come to rely on Jack Beckett for both information and accomplishment.

Jack delivered both, basing his information on solid foundations of fact, investigation and careful thought, and his accomplishment on a seemingly tireless ability.

At last week's district meeting when he told the other directors about the necessity of resignation because he is moving away from Marin, it was quite evident in what respect they held him.

President Adrien Falk gave "no small measure" of credit for accomplishments of the district to date to Beckett's "unlimited effort."

Director Sherwood Swan, one of the four men still on the board who started with Beckett as a director of the new defunct Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission nearly nine years ago, called his contribution "tremendous". I'd be surprised and pleased, Swan went on, "if Marin County could find another even remotely like him."

Yet that is the problem that Marin County's Board of Supervisors faces.

Happily there is a period of about two months before Beckett's resignation will become effective. We hope that in that time the supervisors comb the county for his replacement.

What kind of a man do they need? Well it would be too much to ask that he duplicate Beckett—an engineer vitally interested in transit, personable, well able to work with others, able to speak privately or in public in such a way as to be understood, not afraid to speak his mind, or make it up either, reliable, and a leader. Not a small order.

Maybe we can't expect them to come up with another Beckett. We hope they try. And they better start now.

TWO BROTHERS ENRICH TOWN

Everyone in the village of San Marco d'Urri in Italy became $1,200 richer, thanks to two brothers in the United States who have never seen the place.

For years these men wanted to help the village where their parents had been born. And they wished to express their gratitude in a tangible way.

They decided to give bank stock totaling $340,000 to the 284 persons still living there. The generous donations made all the villagers comparatively rich in a place that had no telephones, cars and only one radio.

Many a person might well say to himself, "If I were rich, I'd like to do what those two brothers did."

But there is no need to wait for a windfall. No matter how little you may have, you can share it with others who have less. By so doing, you are imitating the Master, and you are developing that yearning to be generous which makes life more meaningful for yourself and for all those you are able to reach.

"If thou wilt be perfect, go, sell what thou hast, and give to the poor, and come, follow me."

(Matthew 19:21).

Inspire in me, O Lord, that desire to share with others those gifts You have entrusted to me.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

The Joneses Aren't Keeping Up With Smiths, Browns Or Johnsons

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

There are some people the Joneses aren't keeping up with. The most popular family names in America rank in this order: Smith, Johnson, Brown, Williams, Jones, Miller, Davis, Anderson, Wilson, and Moore.

Now that spring has finally arrived, you might want to know an interesting thing about the Eskimos. They have no word for snow. But in our neighborhood we have a number of adjectives for it the children have been forbidden to repeat.

Shaving is a chore enjoyed by men who like to look at themselves in a mirror. To others it is a morning bore. It has been estimated that during his lifetime a man could learn seven languages in the time he spends shaving.

Great thoughts from television: "Love your enemy," says George De Witt. "It'll drive him nuts!"

Most civilizations have recognized the power and danger in women's vocal cords. The American Indians had a proverb: "A squaw's tongue runs faster than the wind's legs." In old Hawaii women were forbidden to gossip. They esily circumvented this foolish male edict by working out a code they transmitted by beating tappa, a hard bark from which they made cloth.

Prosperity note: The federal government now can spend as much in a single day on the purchase of paper towels as it did to run the country for a year in George Washington's day.

Speaking of Washington, he was as canny a man with a dollar as that early apostle of thrift, Benjamin Franklin. Washington didn't believe in idle cash and once said: "It is not a custom with me to keep money to look at." He put it to work.

Odd legislation: In Los Angeles it used to be illegal to shoot a jack rabbit from a streetcar.

Men on ice have special problems. A Navy study of 700 men stationed in the white, cold desert of Antarctica found some of them complained more about the lack of fresh fruit and vegetables than the dearth of feminine companionship.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Dist. Attorney Al Bagshaw sent to the supervisors, women's clubs and others interested an official statement saying that the county and various civic organizations "are embarking upon a program to terminate illegal practices" in garbage dumping.

Officials of the state Division of Beaches and Parks announced acceptance of a deed to 186 acres of county-owned Shell Beach property valued at $40,100 and comprising Marin County's "matching" contribution to development of Tomales Bay State Park.

20 YEARS AGO

Five young pear trees developed from historic pears planted by early Mission fathers in San Rafael were reported ready for transplanting to Boyd Park. The development was done on suggestion of Thomas Peryam, agricultural commissioner, and other members of the Marin Horticultural Society. The original trees were planted 129 years ago at Fifth avenue and Lootens Place.

After 18 years of publication by Mr. and Mrs. William Hanen, the Novato Advance was taken over by Jack Sparrow of San Rafael, a graduate of San Rafael High School.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Why Not Add Strychnine Too?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Now that the battle for fluoridation of the water is under way, it seems to a large group that it is time to consider what other ingredients we should add.

It is well known that in the treatment of heart troubles, from which many of our senior citizens suffer, strychnine is often valuable. Therefore we propose to help these elder persons by having strychnine added to our water—only one part in a million, however, not enough to kill anything larger than a rat.

If there are any younger persons who object, they are being merely selfish, not to say anti-social. We solicit the cooperation of all right-minded citizens in seeing that Marin County water-drinkers shall henceforth not go without their daily strychnine.

Doctors Always Are My Friends

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Doctors have been my friends and friends have been my doctors since before I was born, when the attending physician delayed her trip out of town and waited for me to arrive — one week late.

In this county and in other parts of the Bay Area, I know members of the medical profession who have more feeling for their patients than they do for their bank accounts.

If there is materialism, also, among medical people, it should not seem surprising if some adopt the standards held by the greater part of society, and choose to wear the mantle of materialism hanging like a blanket of smog above us, threatening to smother us all.

If there is too much specialization and too much organization, this is true in other fields also.

I do not like to see minority groups attacked — and this includes the medical minority. The pendulum has swung from veneration to flagellation: probably both unjustified extremes. These are individual human beings. It may be that there are those who are controlled by their own organizations. Certainly, there are many who are not.

If the time comes when they are all regimented by excessive legislation and government control, it will be a sad day for everyone. If there are some who think of profit and a standard of living, there must be many more who are fighting for individualism and freedom of action.

Cuban Tragedy Is The People

EDITOR,

One of the greatest teachings of history — "Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad with power" — will eventually be re-affirmed in the career of one Fidel Castro.

It's tragic, however, that millions of Cubans must meanwhile suffer because of the insane gyrations of a paranoic who could probably be cured by a competent psychiatrist.

Doctors Working On Old Age Care

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The health and well-being of all age groups have been an established humanitarian objective of physicians for centuries. I wish to emphasize that our Marin physicians are carrying on this tradition.

The present high standard of health in the United States with the increased longevity of our people has resulted from such care by physicians throughout our country.

In response to recommendations from many state medical societies, the Blue Cross groups and numerous private insurance companies have recently offered nation-wide voluntary insurance plans for those of 65 years or older. The Health Insurance Institute has stated that these plans will serve 60% of those in that age group this year.

Marin physicians, in providing medical care for their patients, have been aware of the need of making more help available for the older age group. Members of the Marin County Medical Society have been considering several methods for providing further assistance to those not yet adequately provided for.

Grants-in-aid or matching funds could be used to implement the existing voluntary health insurance organizations. These could provide greater medical and hospital coverage than that provided by any of the legislative plans proposed so far. The cost to the taxpayer would be reduced if persons well able to provide for their own care were not beneficiaries of the insurance.

Any plan to be responsive to the local needs should be administered at the state and local level.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Abraham Lincoln once was asked by a New York firm for information on the financial circumstances of one of his neighbors. He obliged with the following: "I am well acquainted with Mr. ——— and know his assets. First of all, he has a wife and baby; together they ought to be worth $50,000 to any man. Secondly, he has an office in which there is a table worth $1.50 and three chairs worth, say $1.00. Last of all, there is in one corner a large rat-hole which will bear looking into. Respy., A. Oliver Herford, a poet of note in his day, and a pompous, beribboned general were joint guests of honor at a banquet. The hostess suddenly announced, "Mr. Herford here will now compose a poem on the spur of the moment in honor of this auspicious occasion."

"Nothing doing," spluttered Herford. "Have the general fire a cannon."

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Marin's Lots Of Things, Wild Flowers, Cockles And Three Legged Dogs

Marin is Stinson Beach where wild poppies grow but where the Learys and the Sherfeys and the Shockeys tow a jeep to Yolo County to look for wild frittalarias.

If they find them, they put them in milk cartons with water and bring them home to store in deep freezes until the annual wildflower show at Stinson Beach May 7 and 8.

Mrs. Edward Leary, Mrs. William Sherfey and Mrs. Kenneth Shockey went out last week to look for the hard to find pink flowers. (They grow only in Butte county and in Yolo, maybe.) They searched and searched and finally found a man who said, "Yes, they are on top of Arbuckle grade about a mile from here."

It was five o'clock, Mrs. Sherfey said, and we were a long way from home so we decided to give up for the day. They did find some Red Bud and Dutchman Pipes.

The three women will go out again, with their husbands, towing the jeep behind their car to be used to climb hills when they reach Yolo.

It is the beginning of the collection period which continues until the show opens — a search for wild flowers from Santa Barbara County to Mendocino. Marin too, of course.

The Learys and the Sherfeys and the Shockeys collect wildflowers because they like to. They are also doing it to raise money towards the community chapel building at Stinson being built, as were their fire station and community center, by volunteer labor.

MARIN IS SAUSALITO where Gilbert P. Murphy, new planning commission chairman, quoted in the meeting last week Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry saying:

"The Bridgeway-Princess Street area is so seriously congested it is impossible to get fire vehicles through on week ends and, if it is complicated more, we will have to ask the city for fire fighting helicopters."

MARIN IS BOLINAS where the sea winds blow and Tommy Biggerstaff lives part time to sell real estate and the rest of the time to look for cockles on Duxbury Reef.

Biggerstaff, whose father came to California to look for gold in 1849, says he likes to cook and that the cockles are very good just about now.

MARIN IS MILL VALLEY where one of the town characters is Kelly, the three-legged dog. Kelly lives with the Jack M. Smiths and Linda, 11, and Scott, 9 at 119 Buena Vista.

He's sandy-haired, curl-tailed and has seen sad dog days when he was in an automobile accident and lost one leg. However, happy he was with four and happy he is now with three, according to Mrs. Smith.

He still leaps over the yard fence, but he cannot open the pantry window with a paw anymore and leap out as he used to do. He was named Kelly because Smith is Irish and the dog was sold to them as an Irish Terrier. Actually, Mrs. Smith said, he's a little mixed up.

Kelly likes to play with the kids but when he gets lonesome he takes a turn down towards the square and can occasionally be seen passing Varney's, Jacques, Quinns or being said hello to at the Mill Valley Market. Going on two years, Kelly has lived a lot for a youngster. And, when the sun is warm and things are dull at home, it's good to be trotting along Throckmorton, seeing the friends.

New Soviet Ambassador To Pakistan Sets New Record For Unpopularity

WASHINGTON — Credit should be given when it is due. The new Soviet ambassador to Pakistan, Mihail Stepanovich Kapitsa, may have set a diplomatic record. No Soviet official has ever been able to get himself into so much trouble so rapidly so soon with his host government.

Ambassador Kapista did it all in less than an hour on his first day, with a heavy hand, an eye for bad manners, and a talent for the inept phrase——or the deliberately provocative one.

He presented his credentials to the head of the Pakistan state, Field Marshal Mohammed Ayub Khan on March 12, then immediately after leaving the President's office, he insulted the Pakistan foreign minister, called a statement the foreign minister had made on a non-Soviet matter a "joke," infuriated the press of the nation and generated a demand for his recall.

THAT'S QUITE an achievement for one hour's diplomatic activity and especially, on top of it all, to win in the semi-official journalistic voice of the Pakistani government, "Dawn," a front-page headline describing him as "an envoy we can do without!"

Perhaps Ambassador Kapitsa did crudely what Moscow wanted done subtly or perhaps he did exactly as the Kremlin planned. In any event, before Kapitsa, an ex-NKVD agent, is promoted or demoted, let us see what he was up to.

HE APPARENTLY wanted to inflame the already strained relations between Afghanistan, which receives large economic aid from the Soviets and Pakistan, which is stoutly anti-Communist and free-world in its sympathies.

The controversy centers around the 6,000,000 Pathans who make up the nomad tribes living in the northwest frontier province of Pakistan, and the 5,000,000 Pathans who live in Afghanistan. The Afghan king takes something of the same attitude toward the Pathans in Pakistan that Hitler took toward the German-Czechs in the Sudetanland — a good way to stir up trouble.

Ambassador Kapitsa did his part, maybe overdid it.

The Pakistani foreign minister, Munzer Quadir, had reasonably suggested that if the King of Afghanistan wanted a plebiscite of the Pathans living in Pakistan, he should also approve a plebiscite of the Pathans living in Afghanistan to determine in which country they preferred to live. Kapitsa had hardly stepped out of the door from his diplomatic presentation ceremony when he unjokingly told Pakistan reporters that Quadir's proposal was a "joke."

He then called into question the 46-year-old boundary line between Pakistan and Afghanistan.

AMBASSADOR KAPITSA described the Pathan population of Pakistan as "Afghan"—which isn't true—and when he was reminded by the newspapermen that the issue of self-determination of the Pakistan Pathans had already been settled in a referendum conducted in 1947, Kapitsa retored that only 7 per cent of the Pathan population had participated — which also wasn't true.

The truth is that 52 per cent of the Pathans in Pakistan voted in the plebiscite and 96 per cent favored Pakistan.

Whereupon the Soviet Ambassador strode off to be greeted the next morning with an avalanche of demands that he be sent back to Moscow because of gross abuse of Pakistan's hospitality and further that he had challenged the sovereignty and territorial integrity of a country whose frontiers had been recognized by his own government.

4 Students Hurt As Auto Plows Into Tree At Olema

Four Petaluma high school students were injured—one seriously—Saturday when their 1955 sedan plowed into a eucalyptus tree at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake boulevard and State highway 1 at Olema.

Ruben Louis Sala, 18, the driver, was reported in good condition today at Petaluma General Hospital. He suffered a broken right leg and multiple lacerations.

Sala was driving west on Sir Francis Drake boulevard at 5 p.m. when his car went into a skid, careening 126 feet into the tree, the California Highway Patrol reported. Lynn Owen Nookes, 17, a passenger, told the highway patrol Sala was going down the hill too fast to make the turn where Sir Francis Drake joins Highway 1.

Nookes complained of chest, back and head pains. He said he and Sala had bought a case of beer in Tomales. He said he had consumed eight or nine cans and Sala four in the car.

Two girl companions who were also injured were Patricia Ellen Keehn, 16, and Sandra Mary Petrov, 16.

The four teen-agers were given emergency treatment at the scene of the accident by Dr. Gordon J. Plattes of Point Reyes Station and transferred to Petaluma General Hospital by ambulance.

The Petrov girl was moved to the Hamilton Air Force Base hospital yesterday, was sent home after her condition was found to be "satisfactory."

Patricia Keehn and Lynn Nookes were also sent home after receiving treatment at the Petaluma hospital.

Drunk Drivers Get Fines, Probation

J. D. Cason, 43, of Tiburon, employee of a San Francisco department store, must pay $250 fine and not drive for 30 days because he drove while intoxicated on Highway 101 last Feb. 9.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him. The judge put Cason on nine months probation.

Dick McDonald, 46, of 1530 Fourth street, San Rafael, must pay $150 fine and remain on six months probation. He was sentenced yesterday for driving while intoxicated along Redhill avenue in San Anselmo on Feb. 24.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Antonelli Should Shut Up, Let His Record Do All The Talking

CONNOLLY

Baseball fans in general and S.F. Giant fans in particular have been doing a terrific amount of reading lately about Johnny Antonelli.

It is a sizzling controversy. Fifty per cent of the fans believe what they read in the papers and the other 50 per cent are attempting to hush things up.

It seems that the good-looking southpaw pitcher with the Giants blew the whistle on himself. He gave an off-the-cuff interview to New York baseball writers Dick Young and Harold Rosenthal telling them there was a cold war between himself and the S. F. press over the "wind incident" of last season that carried two lousy fly balls over the screen for homers."

After the reporters, and by the way, two of America's finest baseball men, wrote their yarns, Antonelli denied it emphatically.

It is really hard to understand that Antonelli is a smart businessman and still allows himself to be kicked about through his own misgivings.

You don't have to be any star-gazer to know that Owner Horace Stoneham had a barrel full of letters last season asking him to get rid of Antonelli.

You don't have to be a prophet to know that the Giants tried all winter to trade him and would have given him up "even" for Larry Jackson, the St. Louis Cardinals' colorful flinger.

YOU DON'T have to be a wiseacre to know that all last season Antonelli never once helped out the game by appearing with Walter Mails on a luncheon date of a club affair. He went once to a hospital to see a sick priest. Otherwise he was unavailable.

These things are a matter of record. There is no secret connected with them.

Antonelli's name was mentioned to the North Beach Italians for a "day" and they refused it point blank.

"Get us some popular Italian. We don't want him," was the answer the Giant attache received when the name of Antonelli was suggested.

Some years ago the Seals gave Dom Di Maggio a "North Beach Day" at Seals Stadium. It took two Bekin trucks to carry away the gifts he received.

Antonelli, had he chosen to be chummy like most S.F. Italians would have had four trucks. He could be that popular.

AND WHAT happens? Today we find Antonelli, a great lefthander, starting out another season with the Giants as popular as the small pox. Even in Marin County, where we have a full share of Italians, they are not behind him as they should be if he were "regular."

My vegetable man in the super-market wants no part of Antonelli.

"He's stuck up; he's a prima donna," he explained to me the other day when I tried to defend Johnny A.

And yet I must say that Antonelli, crowding 30 years of age, has been a very gentlemanly player to me. He has always been polite and answers frankly and honestly anything I ask him.

I find it extremely hard to crucify Johnny A. I like the guy and I believe he is a great lefthanded pitcher. But he came west expecting to meet a lot of red faced Indians. And he isn't sure yet our folks are the equal of New Yorkers.

But he isn't alone in that respect. There's a lot of Giant brass that are skeptical about the West. I could name a few, but what's the use?

MY HEART goes out to Antonelli. He walked into a hornet's nest with his eyes wide open and now that he is on the spot again, he should just shut up and let the fans judge for themselves when he wins 20 games in the coming season.

Antonelli is like most of the Paisanos I know. He's a tough loser. He acts red-necked when he loses and he pops off not meaningly. When others interpret his remarks differently, he gets sore.

I'd like to see Antonelli left alone for awhile. If he doesn't make good! if the fans get on him to the extent they are not pleased with his work, the boss man Horace Stoneham has the answer. He can dispose of a $35,000 chattel buy pronto.

Small Miracle In The Making At Bucs' Camp

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A minor baseball miracle is taking place at Fort Myers, Fla., where Diomedes Olivio, a 40-year-old rookie pitcher, is trying to earn a berth with Pittsburgh's Pesky Pirates.

Picked up from Poza Rica of the Mexican League, Olivo impressed again yesterday by pitching one-hit ball for two innings in his exhibition debut as the Bucs scored their 11th straight victory.

Olivio compiled a 21-8 record in the double A Mexican circuit last season. He appeared in 35 games, completed 23 of 30 starts, worked 247 innings, struck out 233, walked only 61 and turned in a 3.02 earned run average.

Despite Olivo's age, Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh decided to have a look at the 6-foot-1, 195-pound native of the Dominican Republic. He may be just the man to spell relief specialist Roy Face.

Olivio's pitched creditably in most of his intra-squad workouts and showed a hopping fast ball in his first official outing for the Pirates, who haven't lost since dropping their first three games.

Other fine pitching performances were turned in yesterday by St. Louis' Vinegar Bend Mizell, who went nine innings and beat Detroit 3-1 on a five-hitter, and Cincinnati's Jim Brosnan, a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee with a six-hit, nine-inning job.

OTHER RESULTS

In other games, Chicago's White Sox edged Philadelphia 7-6, Baltimore defeated New York 3-1, San Francisco beat Boston 6-3, Kansas City nipped Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago's Cubs whipped Cleveland 3-2.

The Cards won their eighth in the last nine games with Mizell duplicating Larry Jackson's route-going performance of Saturday—first of the spring. Stan Musial, hitting .380, knocked in the deciding run against the Tigers with a sixth-inning double.

Less Walls' two-out homer in the ninth inning broke a three-game losing streak for the Reds. Cincinnati got only five hits off a trio of Milwaukee pitchers, but bunched them for three runs in the third.

The White Sox won their fourth one-run game when rookie J. C. Martin singled across the clincher against the Phils in the eighth after Luis Aparicio tied it with a two-run homer.

Jackie Brandt and rookies Chuck Staniland and Dave Nicholson hit homers for the Orioles while Arnold Portocarrero and Gordon Jones scattered seven Yankee hits.

Bud Daley and New Garver, who drove in one run and scored another run for the Athletics, had the Dodgers shut out until the ninth. A single and three errors gave the world champions two runs, but Maury Wills was cut down at the plate with the tying run.

Giants Score Dazzling Victory

PHOENIX — The season hasn't even started but you would think this was mid-July from the form displayed by the San Francisco Giants.

Spectacular defensive plays, sharp hitting and fine pitching all went into the Giants 6-3 exhibition victory over the Boston Red Sox here yesterday.

Orlando Cepeda committed larceny in broad daylight with a leaping, one-handed catch against the left field wall. It robbed Bosox rookie Lou Clinton.

On the very next play, centerfielder Willie Mays made one of his unbelievable catches of a line shot by Haywood Sullivan in right center 400 feet from the plate. Willie crashed into the wall and went down, but he had the ball.

Right fielder Felipe Alou raced far to his left to spear a long fly ball off the bat of Pumpsie Green. It was foul by 10 feet, but Alou came to a sudden halt, spun and threw a strike to catcher Bob Schmidt that caught base running Eddie Sadowski 20 feet from home plate.

Pitcher Mike McCormick restricted the Bosox to one hit in five full innings. Shortstop Eddie Bressoud, with three hits in four at bats, led a nine-hit barrage against Ike Delock and Erv Palica, Boston hurlers.

Those blows included Bressoud's fourth homer of the spring and a homer by Cepeda with one on base.

Not that it means anything, but it left the Giants two full games on top of other National League clubs in the standings.

It was lefty McCormick's best effort of the season. The only hit he allowed was a feeble infield single. And among those he struck out was the mighty Ted Williams, twice.

The Giants announced later they were sending five players to their Tacoma Club, training at Sanford, Fla. They are pitchers Ed Fisher, Vic Davis and Marshall Renfroe, infielder Benny Valenzuela and outfielder Bob Perry.

Marin Cops Second In AAU Swim Meet

Sierra Skippers swim team of Sacramento squeaked out top club honors in the Marin Pirates' AAU invitational meet at Drake High School tank Saturday, with Coach Beth Kaufman's Pirates following close behind.

Approximately 200 swimmers representing 10 northern California teams entered the meet which featured age group competition for youngsters up to 14 years.

The Sacramento natators garnered firsts in five individual events and two relays. The Pirates took four firsts and five seconds in individual competition and four second places in relay events.

Other teams, in order, were: Pleasant Hills Swim Club, Livermore Aquacowboys, Oakland YMCA, San Francisco Seals, Benicia Aquatic Club, Crystal (San Francisco) Swim team, Athens Club (Oakland) and Hamilton (San Francisco) Aquateers.

Pacesetters for the Marinites were members of the Girvin family, Nancy, Bob and George, who accounted for half the Pirate's individual medals. Nancy took the gold medal in the girls 13-14, 100-yard backstroke; Bob in the boys 10 and under 50 back, and George was second to the Pirates' Ed Rudloff in the 11-12 boys 200 individual medley. All three Girvins swam on second-placing relays.

Tiny Roberta Shistar accounted for the remaining gold medal for the local club in winning the girls 10 and under 50 backstroke.

Individual standout of the meet wkas Maggie Rosenberg, swimming unattached from San Francisco, who splashed her way to three firsts, in the 11-12 girls free, 50 back and 50 butterfly.

Two Marin girls, Bonnie Kerridge of Mill Valley and Nan Ronneberg, Ross, swimming with Crystal of San Francisco, were first and second, respectively, in the special 100-yard backstroke for senior girls. Miss Kerridge was second to Christine Predd, Benicia, in the other senior event, 100 yard freestyle.

Complete results will be published in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.

Carlisle To Speak At Newell Fete

Superintendent Chester G. Carlisle of the Tamalpais Union High School District will give the introductory address at a Big "C" Society banquet honoring University of California Coach Pete Newell tonight at the Claremont Hotel.

Approximately 500 guests are expected at the stag testimonial dinner. Vic Bottari and Bud Staats are in charge of arrangements.

Carlisle was graduated from Cal in 1938 as a mathematic major. He was an all-American guard and was named on Nibs Price's all-time U.C. team. In his senior year he was team captain.

Newell has resigned his basketball coaching position to become California's athletic director.

Injured School Player Improves In Hospital

Frank Brunini, player for Tamalpais High School baseball team, was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital today. He underwent surgery Tuesday for a skull fracture he suffered last Monday from a ball thrown during a pre-game warm up at the high school.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Brunini of 338 Shoreline highway, Tamalpais Valley.

Amorito Wins Cup

SAN DIEGO (AP)—San Diego Yacht Club's 48-foot sloop Amorito sailed under light winds yesterday to take its second straight Lipton Cup yacht race.

The craft, owned by Fred Liebhardt and skippered by Gerry Driscoll, led the field of six challengers over most of the 12-mile course.

Second place was taken by Balboa Yacht Club's Escapade, and Bagatelle of Los Anegles Yacht Club was third.

Fast Start For Celtics In Playoffs

BOSTON (AP)—The hot-handed Boston Celtics have caught St. Louis in the middle of a style adjustment to get the jump in the National Basketball Assn. championship playoff series which both clubs figure is going to get much tougher.

Boston romped to a 140-122 get-away victory yesterday which produced nine records, including most points in a game by one team and two in a title playoff contest.

"It was just one of those days," shrugged happy Celtics Coach Red Auerbach who agreed with the Hawks' Ed Macauley that the best-of-seven struggle is far from over. "We couldn't do anything wrong," Auerbach continued. "You don't beat these guys that easily very often."

BIG ONE TOMORROW

"Tuesday's second game is the big one," Macauley said. "The fact that we had to travel after playing Minneapolis Saturday and that the Lakers are not a running club like Boston played a part in the outcome."

"What a change style of play for us," said a tired Si Green in the Hawks' dressing room. "In a way I'm glad Boston scored so well and kept up the race as long as they were winning. It helps us adjust to their fast game. Minneapolis is much more deliberate and I didn't realize just how different the Celtics play until I got out there today."

"I hated to beat them so badly," commented Bill Sharman of the Celts who got 23 points while Tom Heinsohn had 24, Frank Ramsey 21 and Bob Cousy 20 in the balanced Boston attack. "We caught them when they were tired. They'll get tougher. When we got hot like that we tend to think we can do it any time and it isn't so."

Edwards, Hector Pace Tam's Track Victory

Ray Edwards, Tamalpais High School's versatile athletic star, paced the Indians to a 73-41 triumph over Redwood Giants Friday in their opening match of the Marin County Athletic League's dual track meet season.

Edwards, All-Northern California halfback and a spark-plug on Tam's championship basketball team, won the 180-yard low hurdles in 21 seconds and the pole vault at 11 feet 4 inches and tied for first in the high jump at 5-10.

Other highlights were a 15.8 seconds clocked by Tam's Bob Hector in the 120 high hurdles, a 4:54.6 mile run by Redwood's Marv Stephens and a 128-foot, 7-inch discus heave by Redwood's Eric Lindner. Hector was a double winner as he also took the 440-yard run in 53.2 seconds.

Tam swept all divisions of the meet as the Indians' Class B team won 56-55 and the C's took a 56-21 decision:

Varsity first place winners were: 120 HH, Hector (T), 15.8; 880, Sweeney (T), 2:15.5; 100, Morgan (T), 10.6; 440, Hector (T), 53.2; 180 LH, Edwards (T), 21.0; 220, Cox (R), 24.3; Mile, Stevens (T), 4:54.6; 880 Relay, Tam, 1:29.0; Discus, Lindner (R), 128-7; Pole Vault Edwards (T), 11-4; Broad Jump, Helms (T), 19.7; High Jump, Tie Edwards and Prosch (T), 5-10; Shot, Randolph (R), 44-9.

Another Whopping Payday For Snead: $5,500, New Car

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Sammy Snead has another tomato can crammed with folding money to bury in his backyard.

The hillbilly from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who jests about his cached wealth, carted home $5,500, in a new car which also went with his victory in the $40,000 De Soto Lakes Open Golf Tournament yesterday.

In winning the 104th tournament of his long career Snead put together rounds of 69-72-67-68 for a 276 total over the 6,902-yard, par 35-36—71 rolling DeSoto Lakes course. He won by a stroke over little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles.

Barber earned $3,400. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who finished third at 278, collected $2,200.

Next in line was National Open Champion Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., five strokes back at 283. Billy Maxwell of Oceanside, Calif.; Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa.; Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., the first-round leader; and Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, tied at 284.

TRACK-FIELD NOTES

64-Foot Shot 'Barrier' Broken By Trojan Ace

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The lads in the field events hold the spotlight thus far in California's spring track season.

Most of the noise has come from the South where the mighty Southern California Trojans have come up with another in a long line of great squads.

Within a few minutes last Saturday, two young shot putters got off the longest heaves in track and field history, bettering the recognized world mark set by Parry O'Brien.

First came Dave Davis, a former Trojan who now attends San Fernando Valley State College but competes for the Southern California Striders.

Davis flipped his shot 63 feet, 10½ inches, 8½ inches better than O'Brien's record. Minutes later USC's giant sophomore, Dallas Long, became the first man in history to surpass 64 feet with a heave of 64-6½.

That was the big moment as the Trojans edged the Striders 60-55 in a dual meet.

California's Golden Bears, with a sub-par squad, appear headed for a thumping Saturday when they meet USC at Los Angeles.

San Jose State overwhelmed the Bears 84-47 in a rain-splattered meet at Berkeley Saturday.

It was the Spartans' third straight win over Call and their largest margin ever.

San Jose took 1-2 in four events and swept two others, the discus and the 220.

Bobby Poynter, Ray Norton's successor at San Jose, breezed to victory in both sprints with 9.5 and 21.5.

Stanford's Ernie Cunliffe clipped off the best mile run in the state Saturday with his best-ever effort, a 4:02.4 to anchor the Indians to victory over the Santa Clara Youth Village in the four-mile relay.

There was no team score kept but the SCYV won 14 of 16 events.

Two of the village stars, sprinter Ray Norton and hurdler Chuck Cobb, captured both events in their specialties, but their times were well off their

Giants Show Bright Spots, But There Are Some Disappointments

HANLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz.—What are the most encouraging and most disappointing signs thus far in the 1960 Giant spring training camp with four weeks gone and two to go before the season opens?

Horace Stoneham and his manager, Bill Rigney, both came up with the same answers on the encouraging signs.

"The thing that has pleased me most," said the president of the ball club, "is the way Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda have been hitting straight to right and right center."

"Willie is going to have a great year in the new park at Candlestick," said Rigney. "I've never seen him look better in spring practice. And I believe Orlando is ready for a big one too."

Both Stoneham and Rigney used almost identical comments about Billy O'Dell. "Just great," said Rigney in reference to O'Dell's mound performances. "Great," said Stoneham. "He looks like he came to play."

Willie Kirkland's power hitting was next on their list of encouraging signs. "The way he has been smashing right handers or southpaws," said Rigney, "we may not be [illegible] tooning in right field." "I'm sorry I didn't make the San Diego trip a week ago to see Willie K's three consecutive homers," said Stoneham, who always has been one of Kirkland's biggest boosters.

EDDIE BRESSOUD'S spectacular fielding at short also prompted big smiles from the Giant brass. "Eddie's hitting, always good in the spring, is something that shouldn't be overlooked," said Rigney. "I haven't seen the weekend figures, but last time I looked at them Friday he was .380 with three homers, two doubles and a triple plus 10 RBI's." Stonemam, who had hoped Andre Rodgers would make it at short last year, also is impressed with the scholarly shortstop.

Also on the positive side of the spring ledger are Johnny Antonelli's pitching; Jimmy Davenport's promising displays at bat indicating he could boost his .251 of last year 30 points; Joe Amalfitano's utility infield work.

DON BLASINGAME'S disappointing bat work would have the Giant management very worried if he were a rookie. Concerning the Blazer's ineffectivenss through the first 11 Cactus League games (3 for 29), Rigney fell back on his original comment of a couple of weeks ago: "He's always been a slow starter."

Neither Rigney nor Stoneham cared to comment about the tailspin in which Willie McCovey put himself by experimenting with the beautiful, natural swing that boomed the ball at a .354 clip and won him rookie of the year honors last season. McCovey's problems started when he began trying to hit under the ball to get it up. Lefty O'Doul is working with him.

There's no serious concern about Sam Jones, Jack Sanford or Mike McCormick although those three front line moundsmen haven't blazed any Cactus League records. Jones, not a control pitcher, has great heart but is still trying to find the outside corner with his big curve. Sanford's fast one is still high. McCormick's arm is still heavy.

THERE IS, however, some concern about Billy Loes. The way he has been throwing the ball looks like he may have a bum wing. At the time of the O'Dell-Loes trade with Baltimore for Jackie Brandt, Gordon Jones and Roger McCardell, Loes said: "The Giants are getting one good pitcher." The other day, when asked how he felt, Loes said: "I feel every pitch is going to be my last one."

The most accurate way to describe the way Loes now throws the ball is that he resembles a shot putter.

Little Porsche Scores Mighty Win At Sebring

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Skilled Europeans parlayed a gasoline war and assorted troubles which plagued the big boys into a great prestige triumph for the rugged little Porsche in the Sebring 12-hour endurance race.

"We just ran our own race and waited for developments," Olivier Gendenien, 36-year-old veteran driver from Brussels, Belgium, said today.

He zipped across the finish line for the first Porsche victory in the gruelling automobile race Saturday night.

Another Porsche, driven by Bob Holbert of Warrington, Pa., and Roy Schecter of Miami, Fla., finished second. Then came one Maserati and six Ferraris in the field of 41 still in the race.

Several powerful racers were withdrawn because of a dispute over the brand of gasoline to be used.

The hassle reduced the odds against Porsche entries. Only four Maseratis and four Ferraris of the sports car class started the event.

The team of Stirling Moss of London and Dan Gurney of Riverside, Calif., roared into the lead in their Maserati on the third lap, but shortly before dark their car went out with gear and axle trouble.

Another Maserati and two Ferraris ran far ahead of the silver gray winner during the early stages. But one by one they developed engine trouble and withdrew or fell behind while mechanics made repairs.

The Gendenbien-Hermann team didn't take the lead until the ninth hour. The rest was easy.

Sebring's 10th annual event was marred by the death of driver Jim Hughes, 29, of Napa, Calif., and George Thompson, a Tampa (Fla.) Tribune photographer. The Lotus driven by Hughes apparently developed brake trouble on a hairpin curve. It left the track, struck the photographer and overturned when the race was 23 minutes old.

MADDEN-LEWIS BLAZE

Yachtsmen Pitch In To Help Rebuild Shipyard

By ALFRED MATSON

The recent complete destruction of the Madden and Lewis Shipyard in Sausalito was a loss that would have caused most owners to throw in the towel. But that was in no way considered by those rugged partners, Herb Madden and Dick Lewis.

As Herb said, "We've been burned out before and we will rebuild again."

There is one touching sidelight that undoubtedly gave added zest to their determination to rebuild. The embers were still hot when members of the Sausalito Yacht Club called an emergency meeting and offered their services as a cleanup squad.

In consequence a full crew was on the job bright and early last week and they put in a long and arduous day. It was a gesture of reciprocation for, down through the years, the yard has always been known to give a helping hand and sage advice to the many young sailors of lean purse and with problems.

Among the valiants who turned out were Jim Enzenperger, Bob Dinehart, Robin Hobart, Russ Wallace, Van Sargent, Dink Crawford, John Sweeney and John Koenig. To the other unsung heroes who also labored, our apologies for not having their names at this time.

OUT OF the welter of happy statistics that emanated from the San Francisco Sport and Boat Show one pathetic story has belatedly come to the surface.

One of the biggest boats to be exhibited was the Colonial Sedan, a 34-foot beauty capable of 30 miles per hour and distributed by the Commodore Yacht Sales of San Rafael. The boat, en route from the New Jersey builders, was on course, but, unfortunately, ran aground somewhere in West Texas and didn't arrive until after the show had closed.

Actually, its journey was via a big trailer and heavy snows in Texas forced the heartbreaking delay and caused Bill Muggenthaler, Fred Jensen and Bill Fromhagen, the bosses of Commodore, plenty of good natured kidding for their well-decorated, albeit empty, booth at the show.

The Colonial Sedan finally arrived and is now docked at Commodore's showrooms on Francisco boulevard, a must see for anyone with marine inclinations.

Action Urged On Dangerous Tam Crossing

The Mill Valley City Council has received a letter from a Mill Valley resident urging that something be done about lighting at the crosswalk on Miller avenue in front of Tamalpais High School.

The crossing is where Nancy Thompson, 14-year-old Tamalpais High School freshman, was injured when hit by a car Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Greyerbiehl of 20 Montford avenue, in her letter, said she almost hit two people at the same crossing about a year ago.

'VERY UPSET'

":I was very upset to think that I came that close to hitting them and wondered if it was the crossing that didn't have very good lighting or if it was me."

She said she went to the next crossing and drove back down Miller and cross the same crossing. She found out, she said, "I couldn't see the crossing very well because of the poor lighting on that corner."

Mrs. Greyerbiehl suggests the city council go to the corner and take a look. "One of the lights," she said, "is behind the pole and is good as nothing there. Another light is on Camino Alto not on Miller and therefore your lighting on that street is very bad."

YELLOW PAINT

The painting on the crosswalk is of yellow and "looking at it in the daytime," Mrs. Greyerbiehl said, "there is nothing much there, so you can imagine what it is like at night."

City Manager A. E. Almcrants said today that Ralph Priestley, architect for Tamalpais Union High School District, has been working several months with Mill Valley City Engineer Stanley M. Bala studying the traffic pattern to see if improvements can be made at the corner.

Last week, Almcrants said, crosswalk lines were replaced in the area, making them more pronounced. They are yellow, he said, because the law requires they be yellow in school areas.

Almcrants added that he and Police Chief James P. McGowan have been investigating the lighting. Two of the lights, he said, are on county property, which means the city can do nothing about them.

Homecoming Concert By Choir Set

The 36-member A Capella Choir of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will conclude its spring concert tour season with a homecoming concert at 8 p.m. today in the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Featured will be both secular and sacred music of composers of the classical and contemporary periods of various nations.

The concert is sponsored by the San Anselmo Rotary Club, Marin Choral and the church. The Marin Chorale will honor the choir before the concert with a homecoming dinner at the church.

The choir arrived back in San Anselmo this afternoon after a tour that began March 17.

The choir completed luncheon and evening concert engagements en route to its farthest destination, San Diego. Many of its 24 performances were given in the Los Angeles area.

Seminary president Theodore A. Gill traveled with the group for most of the tour, speaking of the school's rapid growth and need for expansion.

Man Cuts Arm In Jail After Traffic Arrest

A former San Quentin inmate tried to kill himself in the Marin County Jail Saturday night, three hours after he battled San Rafael policemen who arrested him for investigation of reckless driving.

At 4 p.m., Patrolman Arthur Fellows saw a car moving erratically along Lincoln avenue. He forced it to the curb and ordered the driver to step out.

"If you want to take me, you'll have to kill me," shouted the driver, David R. Heaney, 33, of Mountain View.

Officer Fellows pulled Heaney from the car and tried to snap handcuffs on him. Heaney wrestled with the officer, and both fell to the ground.

Nick Van der Veen, a passing motorist, stopped his car and went to the officer's assistance. But Heaney put up such a battle the two men could not handle him.

Three additional police officers were called before Heaney was controlled. It took six jailers to get the protesting Heaney into a cell.

At 6:45 p.m., jail inmate Fred Davey discovered Heaney had slashed his left arm in four places with a razor blade. He was taken to San Rafael General Hospital, where doctors said they thought he was under the influence of narcotics when he refused medicine to deaden the pain and failed to show any sign of pain as wounds were sutured.

After treatment for superficial wounds he was committed to Napa State Hospital.

Nine years ago, Heaney attempted suicide by slashing his left arm in the San Mateo County Jail after resisting arrest and causing a furor at the jail. He has a record of having served time in San Quentin for auto theft.

Airman Jailed After Chase Of Stolen Car On Highway

An enlisted man stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base was jailed yesterday on charges of car theft and hit-run driving after he eluded pursuit in a hot chase up Highway 101.

A/2c Stephen J. Washabaugh, 25, of the 2347 Field Maintenance Squadron was charged with stealing a four-door 1949 Ford sedan belonging to Frank Ross of Marin City from in front of Zack's on Bridgeway boulevard in Sausalito at 2 a.m.

Shortly after 2 a.m. the stolen car sideswiped a northbound car at the Greenbrae bridge driven by Second Lt. Walter William Ince, 22, of 78th Fighter Squadron at Hamilton, who lives at 182 Belvedere street, San Rafael.

Ince told the California Highway Patrol he was driving at 60 or 65 miles per hour in the middle lane when he saw the car coming up fast in the rearview mirror. He started to change into the outside lane when the Ford roared past, scraping the left side of Ince's hardtop.

Ince started chasing the other car up the highway. The airman slowed down south of Puerto Suello Hill and Ince pulled alongside, motioning for the driver to pull over. The Ford pulled ahead and its left front tire blew out.

Ince reported he turned right at Terra Linda signal to the east service road where the Ford followed. Ince pulled up in front of the Marin Motel, jumped out of his car and motioned the driver who was traveling about five to 10 miles per hour, to stop. The car kept going. Ince called the CHP and turned in the license number.

The CHP looked for the vehicle with no success. At 3:15 a.m. the sheriff's office reported the car was parked at Cielo Rancho Motel restaurant, across from the main gate of Hamilton Air Force Base.

CHP Patrolman Vincent Weimer found Washabaugh sleeping with his head on the counter. Ince, summoned by the highway patrol, identified Washabaugh as the driver who had sideswiped him.

Washabaugh said he "blacked out," reported the patrol.

District Demo Group Backs Wilson For Assembly Seat

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Assembly candidate Joseph G. Wilson, San Rafael attorney, won first ballot endorsement yesterday at the endorsing convention of the 7th Assembly District California Democratic Council meeting in Petaluma.

The convention also shouted unanimous endorsement of Clement W. Miller, incumbent Democratic congressman, who faces no opposition in his own party for re-election.

Although Assembly endorsement ballot count was kept secret, I. A. Barlas, convention chairman, announced Wilson had received a majority vote on the first ballot over insurance man Edward K. Wachsman of Terra Linda; Mrs. Helen Putnam, former Petaluma school board president, and Everett A. Matzen, Petaluma labor leader.

Unofficial report on the vote total was Wilson 78, Matzen 54, Mrs. Putnam 7, Wachsman 2. There were 142 official delegates present in the new recreation hall of the district agricultural fairgrounds.

Absent was a fifth Democratic aspirant, Harold E. Payton of San Rafael, former Marin County deputy assessor, who announced he intended to run but has not yet officially filed for the post.

For awhile, it seemed possible the convention might not endorse anyone. John S. Watson of Petaluma, chairman of the state Board of Agriculture, proposed that because the convention was "confronted by such an array of wonderful candidates, we accept them all and not choose between them."

Watson, who had made the nominating speech for Matzen, proposed instead that each Democratic club and central committee hold candidates' nights and "make all the candidates known, raise funds and create interest." He claimed that if one candidate was selected by each party for the primaries "we would have a political vacuum."

George Deck of Santa Rosa, in seconding the motion, pointed out the Democrats had battled to abolish cross-filing so more candidates could run. "Now there should be a free and open primary without endorsed candidates," he declared.

But Gerald Hill of Mill Valley, California Democratic Council director from the 1st Congressional District who had acted as temporary chairman to open the convention, gave a ringing defense of the endorsing procedure. He maintained "we're not shutting anyone out" but urged the delegates to "unite and say what we feel as the active and effective working Democrats."

Harold Morgan of San Rafael, Marin County Democratic Central Committee chairman, backed Hill, saying, "at some future date there may be no need for such an organization as this, but since we have met here, we should endorse candidates."

Effect of the endorsing vote, was to eliminate at least two of the candidates. Matzen and Wachsman immediately announced that they are withdrawing from the race and will support Wilson.

Only Mrs. Putnam declared herself still in the race. Even before the vote, she told the group in her nominating talk that she would "appreciate your endorsement, but to the people I must look." After the vote, and just before she flew back to Washington to take part in the President's Conference on Children and Youth, she said she definitely is still in the race for the nomination.

Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, Northern California chairman for the Democratic State Central Committee, was convention keynote speaker. He reviewed the history of the party in the last 12 years, discussed current issues, accomplishments in this area and warned:

"Now is the hour of decision. We must hold control of the state Assembly this year in order to reapportion the state fairly, to undo the unfair gerrymandering done 10 years ago by the Republicans. Every Assembly seat is critical."

With an obvious reference to William T. Bagley, 32, San Rafael attorney and the only Republican thus far to file for the Assembly seat being vacated by Richard H. McCollister, Kent said: "Even Republican Marin" voted for Edmund G. Brown and Stanley Mosk in 1958. "This proves that even Marin won't vote for a Neanderthal Republican, even if he's young."

The candidates spoke to the convention in alphabetical order after a nominating and two seconding speeches for each.

Matzen said he has "gone down the Democratic Party line issue by issue." He quoted and subscribed to the resolutions passed by the state CDC at the recent Fresno convention.

Mrs. Putnam answered four questions which she had been asked at a Santa Rosa Democratic Club meeting a week before. She considers that medical aid for elder persons is "a part of a total problem, not a separate problem"; that both federal and state aid to education should come to the local agencies "without so much control the local agency can't control the education"; that more study of the laws, rehabilitation processes and crime prevention are needed before a decision is made on capital punishment; that she was on the speakers' platform with William R. Knowland as a nonpartisan school board president and not as a partisan.

Wachsman related "growing concern among my contemporaries about the low calibre of representation in the Assembly and until 1958 in Congress." He said he had studied government, been active in keeping current with its problems and was the "only candidate that can outcampaign Bagley."

Wilson spoke of his pride at Democratic achievements, which he reviewed and indicated his own position on them; admitted "no pat answer" for the farm problem but said he was gaining close insight into it from those closest to it; said regarding taxes that "intelligent and progressive decisions should be made on what the public really needs" and then a tax program worked out to allow the state to take a just share of the burden.

After his endorsement, Wilson thanked the delegates and assured them he would "go out of here with renewed effort" and go on to capture the Assembly seat.

Mrs. Elaine Guthrie of Ross was convention secretary; William Kortum of Petaluma, sergeant at arms, and Bennet Skewes-Cox of Ross parliamentarian.

Candidacy Statement Issued By Fusselman

Marin County Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who filed Friday for re-election, issued a statement today endorsing respect for individual rights, supporting the principle of recreational areas, citing his long record of public service and promising enlightenment about "the civic center deal" which he has opposed:

"Although I am elected from the 2nd District, I have never had 'districtitis' but have applied my thoughts and action in terms of the best interest of the whole county, even though attempts have been made to muzzle me," declared Fusselman.

"Through an unusual set of circumstances I have spent most of my adult life serving in a public capacity. Because of early legal training and my years of active experience as a public official, coupled with a constant study of national and international affairs, I have acquired a background of information that has great value when applied to the study and solution of the problems constantly being presented to the board of supervisors.

"Providence has given me a great compassion for the unfortunate who are in personal difficulties or are being oppressed by bureaucratic activities. Large segments of the population have approved of my insistence on proper procedure and due process of law. The rights of the individual must be respected.

"Many conservationists know that I have supported and voted for acquisition and preservation of the recreational areas of Marin, for the enjoyment of the present generation and as a legacy for the future. My record in this respect is very close to 100 per cent. However, I have insisted on being informed, in detail, on all phases of the projects.

"I served for nine years on the San Anselmo City Council . . . seven years as mayor, and thus have a personal, intimate knowledge of city government problems. The cities in my district have had a constant champion in me on the board of supervisors.

"Flood control in Ross Valley presented a complicated legal situation. Proper control requires a single operating unit and legal authority. I worked for many years to build up understanding of such a concept. In 1953 this was accomplished and state legislation was enacted. Since then there has been a continuous cooperation with the Army Corps of Engineers. They are scheduled to complete their engineering study this year. Then will come the implementation to carry out the recommended plan.

"There was great disappointment in the ranks of the charter proponents, when the voters rejected that 30 feet of tanglefoot by a 2-to-1 vote. I have been told they have been sharpening the ax ever since. There has been considerable speculation as to just who would be tapped to attempt the hatchet work.

"There is a whale of a lot the taxpayers never had an opportunity to know about the civic center deal. I propose to enlighten them with paid advertising space. It will make interesting reading. I firmly believe most people will approve my position when it is clearly set up for them to consider."

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Better Health Through Knowledge

To Sing or Not

- Hair Growth
- Fern Test

Q. Should a boy whose voice has started to change be stopped from singing? Our chorus teacher says that this is not necessary.

A. This question has been debated for a long time. Most modern experts apparently agree that choir singing during the change is harmful. Schubert and Haydn are supposed to have lost their voices that way. Serious vocal training should not be begun by boys before age 18 or 19 and by girls before 17 years of age.

Q. I have thick, baby-fine hair. It has not been cut in two years and is just to my shoulders. Why won't it grow?

A. Hair length is an individual matter. One person's hair will grow shoulder-length and stop, while others can grow waist-length hair. Hair changes may suggest possible thyroid dysfunction although this may not apply in your case at all. You might consult a doctor if for no other reason than to rule out conditions that could affect hair growth.

Q. I recently discussed a personal problem with a doctor who mentioned performing a fern test. What in the world does this mean?

A. The doctor no doubt referred to a test which depends upon the "ferning" of cervical secretion. If this material, obtained during the middle week of the menstrual cycle, is spread on a glass slide and allowed to dry, it crystallizes in a fern-like pattern. The design is much like that seen on a frosted windowpane. Normally, cervical secretion obtained during the extremes of the menstrual cycle does not "fern." The test is used in dealing with the problem of sterility and other conditions.

Yacht Auxiliary's Style Show Now Planned As Annual Event

"Kaleidoscope," the recent luncheon-fashion show was presented by the Women's Auxiliary of the Sausalito Yacht Club. Due to its success, it is now being planned as an annual event.

In addition to the usual confusion of arranging for luncheon and a fashion program for 150 members and guests, the final planning had to be handled without the presnce of the chairman, Mrs. Ted Schoonmaker.

Early in February Mrs. Schoonmaker was asked by her husband to accompany him on a round-the-world business trip. Even though all of the ground work of setting up committees and formulating the over-all plans had been done, Mrs. Schoonmaker was hesitant about leaving after having accepted chairmanship of the luncheon-fashion show. It was only after assurance from Mrs. Peter Fromhagen, president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Gerald Melone, assistant chairman, that they would happily take over the responsibility of the fashion show that Mrs. Schoonmaker began packing her suitcase. It was also pointed out to her that there wasn't a member of the Auxiliary who would not accept missing the luncheon for a trip around the world. Mrs. Schoonmaker was originally expected back on March 7, 1960, but after stops in Hong Kong, India and Paris, she is now in Miami and expected back this weekend.

After lunch the guests were shown a wide range—both in style and price — of clothes modeled by Auxiliary members. The kaleidoscope line featured "slims" of solid colors with blouses of brightly colored, large geometirc patterns and casual cottons of smaller geometic prints. Several swim suits were shown with either matching skirts or wrap-around dresses making them easily converted. Particularly suited to a fashion show sponsored by a yacht club was a pale blue cotton sailor dress modeled by Mrs. Fromhagen. There were the cocktail dresses and short formals. Included in this group were several short summer formals of printed cotton, a black, permanent pleated cocktail dress and a black silk chiffon dress complete with an ostrich feather stole.

Television Topic At Marin Terrace P-TA Meeting

Parents who expect television to serve as an "electronic baby sitter have no right to complain of the quality of the shows.

A KPIX program director, David Allen, challenged parents with this opinion at Mill Valley's Recent Marin Terrace P-TA meeting.

The group remained until after 10 p.m. questioning and arguing in what had developed into a round table discussion on where responsibility lies for what children see on TV.

"The mediocrity of television in general is only a reflection of the taste of the public," Allen declared. "Where do you find uniform quality? In newspapers? In books? In movies? Is it quite fair to expect it from television?

He agreed that there is little or no reality in westerns, and admitted that some of the best children's programs come at poor times but disclaimed responsibility for his station. A network affiliate, he said, must run the show at the time the network schedules it.

Commenting on a new KPIX show which features well known personalities reading aloud, Allen said this was a poor substitute for a parent himself reading aloud to his children. Parents should sometimes watch the shows their children see, he recommended.

"If you do not like what you see," he concluded, "there is a button on your TV set that will shut it off. You are the censor. You can set the limits."

Allen has been associated with the "Captain Fortune" and "Closeups" shows and at one time as "Deputy Dave" conducted his own children's show.

Hospital Auxiliary Meeting April 6

The Saint Francis Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will have a noon luncheon meeting on Wednesday, April 6, in the hospital auditorium on Bush street. It will be the first meeting with Mrs. Lawrence Custer presiding as president. The Senior student nurses of the hospital will be guests of the Auxiliary.

Anne Reher, distinguished lecturer and book reviewer, will be guest speaker. The subject will be "Sugar and Spice," a light-hearted look at today's women.

Kent P-TA Has Election Of Officers

Officers for the coming year were unanimously elected by the Adeline E. Kent School P-TA at a meeting held Wednesday evening at the school.

Mrs. Jane Pike, president-elect, and other officers will be installed at the P-TA's annual Fashion-Luncheon on April 23.

Other new officers include Mrs. Richard Wertheimer, vice president; Anthony Bacich, second vice president; Mrs. Charles C. Clark, recording secretary; Mrs. Louis T. Ott, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bernard Stone, treasurer; Donald Chapman, auditor; Mrs. R. E. Dix, financial secretary; and Mrs. Milton Bromberg, historian.

Chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Douglas A. Pease, was assisted by the Mesdames Russell R. Klein, Maurice S. Salomon, James Irey and Clarence Lesko.

Following short addresses by Mrs. Watson Conner, president of the Board of Trustees for Kentfield District, and Harold R. De Pue, district school superintendent, a filmed documentary of past May Festivals was presented.

Responsible for the editing of the many amateur films was Mrs. Austin W. Lea. Since the earliest film borrowed was made in 1949 when the original Kentfield school structure was still standing it held historical as well as human interest.

Narrating during the film showing was Mrs. S. James Compton, P-TA president.

The school is planning this year's festival for May 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denby Garvin of San Anselmo have returned home from a trip to the Orient. They spent two weeks in Hong Kong with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Osborne. They also spent a week in Tokyo and a week in the Hawaiian Islands. They made the trip by jet.

For A Family

For a family of coffee or tea hounds, there's a new auxiliary electric water heater which fits beneath the sink with spigot projecting through the counter top to provide a constant supply of steaming hot water.

A SNEAK PREVIEW of "Where's Charley?" the next Gate Players production amused Mrs. Earl F. Reinke, right, Mil Valley Branch AAUW member, as she watched the stars of the show Jerri Burnett and Don Staiton enact a love scene. Jerri is wearing a gown of the period lent for the occasion by MV Branch member, Mrs. Ernest A. Evans. Staiton sports the beard he grew for his starring role in the current production "Pipe Dreams."

DISCUSSING DETAILS for the opening night performance of "Where's Charley?" being sponsored by the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women at 8:30 p.m., April 1 at the Gate Playhouse in Sausalito are, from left, Mesdames Edward J. Doctors Suggest Doing Dishes Just Once Daily

DENVER (UPI) — When the man in your family next complains about stacks of dishes piling up from serveral meals, you have a ready made alibi.

It's not just an excuse, but advice from the Colorado Medical Society, telling women to "stack dishes from several meals and do them all at once."

It's a way to avoid rough, red dishpan hands, which the society's doctors claim are a special problem in their high, dry climate.

Advice from the society includes a suggestion that women try to plan things so that their hands are in water for longer periods of time, and out of water for corresponding longer periods.

When you are finished, oil your hands while they are still wet and wrinkled from the water.

Cool Colors Best Choice For Kitchen Say Decorators

CHICAGO (UPI) — Cool colors are the best choice for kitchen walls, most decorators agree.

But they suggest accenting the cool blues, blue-grays, aquas and pale greens of kitchen walls with warm reds, brilliant yellows, bright coral or apple green. Use these accent colors on the insides of drawers and cabinets as well as for curtains and accessories.

One of the newest cool-warm color combinations for kitchens combines light periwinkle blue walls with cabinet interiors of white and accessories of bright coral.

The same white and coral accents are good with turquoise walls, which also look striking with pink cabinet interiors and accessories.

Pale green, an old standby for kitchen walls, takes on a new look when contrasted with white cabinet interiors and grape accessories or decals of grapes on cabinets.

White, always a kitchen favorite, most often is combined with red or yellow, but looks newer with apple green cabinet interiors and accessories. Aqua also combines well with white walls, particularly when used on the ceiling and for the refrigerator. Bright blue and orange look even more dramatic with white walls.

The right choice of color for a kitchen can do more than make it cheerful. A very small kitchen seems larger, painted a light color, while a long galley-like kitchen appears squarer when the narrow end walls are painted a deeper color than the two side walls. A high ceil-is "lowered" by painting it a deeper hue than the walls, while a low ceiling seems higher painted white or a pale color.

Whatever colors are used, the paint should be either a gloss or semi-gloss enamel to resist grease fumes and moisture and withstand frequent scrubbing.

Mrs. G. F. Cueleers Is Honored At Birthday Tea

By HELEN MILLS

Fifty-five NCO Wives members and their guests met in the Turquoise room of the NCO Club recently at a surprise birthday tea for Mrs. George F. Cueleers, honorary president of the NCO Wives Club.

Joining the group to honor Mrs. Cueleers were Mrs. Sory Smith, Mrs. John D. Stevenson and Mrs. James J. Roberts.

Bouquets of tulips and daffodils provided the spring background for the lace-covered tea table on which was centered a birthday cake designed for the occasion by Roberta Groves.

Three past presidents of the club, Alice Clark, Barbara Shaw and Roberta Groves, presided at the tea table while hostesses Juanita Carr, Mary O'Connor and Betty Snell served the dainty finger-tip sandwiches and punch.

Following the tea a pre-Easter showing of spring hats was presented under the direction of Mrs. DeElla Pearce, manager of a San Rafael store's millinery department. Variously gowned in striking spring fashions, and enhanced by Edith Rhenborg cosmetics skillfully applied by make-up artist Mabel Sweigert, the 10 NCO Wives models were seated in turn at a frilly blue dressing table, fitted with the newest in hat "confections" and presented, to the music of S/Sgt. "Woody" Woodside, through a giant gilt picture frame.

At the conclusion of the show the members and their guests were invited by Mrs. Pearce to try on the hats shown.

Softening Tip

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you launder leather or kid gloves which are marked "washable," add a water conditioner to the rinse water to keep the gloves soft. A tablespoon of glycerine will do the trick.

Mothers' March Tabulations Are Completed

During the January Mothers' March for the March of Dimes, the Marching Mothers, in addition to seeking funds, bore small "door count" cards asking several basic questions about the three crippling diseases now under attack by The National Foundation. These are birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Tabulation of the door count was completed today and it was found that the above cripplers affect one-fifth of Marin County homes answering the questionnaire,, Mrs. Melvin Hammond, chairman of The National Foundation's county chapter reported.

The Marching Mothers also found one in four of the individuals in the households reporting had not yet completed their full series of three Salk polio vaccine shots.

"While the 'door count' was not a scientific survey," the chairman said, "it does provide a good working estimate of the size of these problems in our county. It will be of great value to the chapter in planning its future program of assistance to individuals with these conditions."

In addition to these findings, the answers to the question as to how many in the household had had three or more Salk vaccine shots appeared to indicate that although the parents made sure the children were vaccinated they neglected to protect themselves when it is just as important that they be vaccinated regardless of age, as polio strikes all ages, and in the cases when the adults were stricken at age 40 and over these usually were the most severe. In other words, everyone should be vaccinated.

The vaccine is available to everyone through their own private physician or free at the Marin County Health Department Monday through Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. and also from 1 to 4 on Monday at the Health Department at Marin City.

Mixing Appeals

WAYNESBORO, Va. (UPI) — Homemakers like to mix up furniture styles in the living room but want matched pieces in the bedroom. A survey by a furniture manufacturer showed that more than 66 per cent of American women want matched headboards, night tables, dressers and chests. Women also want plenty of storage space in the room. Two-thirds of storage pieces sold by retailers are destined for the bedroom, the survey revealed.

Newest Iron Ends Fuss For Southpaws

The cord for this iron is attached to the top rear of the handle, to accomodate either left or right-handed homemakers. The temperature control also is conveniently located on the front of the handle top.

Other new appliances include a portable food mixer with power booster to give additional thrust in heavy mixing and an electric fry pan with a lid that can set at an angle in a slot on the back rim, to protect against spattering. The skillet also comes with a special leg that snaps into the handle, tilting the pan slightly to simplify basting and draining off fat as it collects.

New electric coffee makers are submersible, have finger-guard handles and non-drip spouts.

Toasters have extra-high rise racks for easier removal of small pieces of toast. A shredder-slicer that also crushes ice is available as an individual appliance, not an attachment.

And a new version of the kitchen counter power center includes a meat grinder, can opener and salad maker attachments.

Alphabet Guide Tells How To Spell The Way To Style

NEW YORK (UPI) — The garment industry is out with an "A to Z" compilation of fashion tips to aid the woman seeking a letter-perfect wardrobe.

The tips are included in a "How To Be Well-dressed" booklet, which is the first in a series of style guides the International Ladies Garment Workers Union will compile for the consumer.

Here are some of the highlights:

A—The all-of-a-piece is the look to aim for. Achieve it by coordinating your colors, cutting down on "extras."

B—Basic styles with interesting accessory changes can double the size of your wardrobe.

C—Casual clothes in elegant materials can take you everywhere in comfort and style.

E—Extremes are dangerous, unless you can afford to throw away a dress when it begins to bore you.

G—Glitter, the kind you get from satin and sequins and dazzling jewelry, is strictly for after-five.

K—Knitted clothes are handsome, easy to pack, easy to care for, but be sure they are easy on your figure.

N—Necklines should flatter your face and the length of your neck; soft, rounded collars if you are thin; scoop or V-necklines (no turtlenecks) if your fact is full, above a short neck.

O—Old fashioned: the idea that redheads can't wear red, that tweeds can't come to the city, that cotton is just for summer, that shoes and handbag must match, that black kid gloves are "old."

P—Pants, to be worn only if you look well in them fore, aft and sideways.

Q—Quick dry and no-iron fabrics are important, especially if you travel a lot. To be at your best in them, slick up the edges with an iron no matter what the directions promise.

U—Underneath it all, efficient underpinnings: strapless bras and half-slips if there's even a suspicion a strap might show; dark slips with dark clothes; full slips for gossamer fabrics.

W—White touches are flattering, but keep them beautifully white.

Z—Zero hour. Never wait until then to shop. Even before you are ready to make your purchase, shop around, know where to go for the things you want and take the time to try them on.

What, No Blondes?

DENVER (UPI) — If you like the color of your locks, you're in the minority.

A survey conducted for the Beauty Institute showed that 65 per cent of the nation's women, ranging from 16 to the 60's, would change their hair color if they had a choice. Surprisingly, most women did not dream of being blondes. They voted for a medium shade that would lend itself to auburn highlights, blonde flecks or reddish tones.

A New Process

Through a new process, nylon tricot gets the satin look. For the consumer, it means safin — sans the up-keep problems. The material is being used in the intimate apparel line — from panties to sleepwear.

In Paris the girls are wearing silver or gold for cocktails or dinners. Best loved: a demure jersey suit, shot with silver or gold lurex.

Cure For Crowding On The Homefront

STAMFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Are you outgrowing your home? Before you move or build an addition, check your house for wasted space.

So advises Lester Smith, an architect, of Sherwood, Mills and Smith, who has solved countless space problems in schools, business offices, churches, hospitals and homes.

First, put a room to more use than one, Smith said. Perhaps that upstairs hall connecting the bedrooms could be widened and a window included to make it a playroom or writing space. Or the dining room could be equipped with convenient and attractive lighting, bookshelves, cabinets, and perhaps music equipment for use at other than mealtime. The enlargement of a window can turn a room into a solarium-greenhouse.

Check for dead space—room taken up by large chests and over-stuffed chairs. Analyze closets and storage space. The contents of most chests probably could be stored better in a closet.

Older houses usually have too many partitions, Smith said. For example, a small hallway next to a kitchen could be eliminated to add more kitchen space.

Finish off attic or basement space. Modern insulation materials and attractive wall boards are inexpensive and far cheaper than adding a new wing.

Large, dark storage rooms or closets could become bathrooms or dressing rooms or could be added to adjacent rooms.

If you've considered all the recommendations, but find no actual increase in space is available, you can psychologically increase the size of your house, the architect said. Replace fixed partitions with room dividers, translucent partitions, or other arrrangements which make space seem to extend into other spaces.

Rooms also can grow or shrink by means of moveable partitions — sliding, swinging, or folding. Some also combine display and storage features. Portions can be translucent or transparent to give a house new adaptability.

If traffic patterns take up needed space, change them, Smith said. Rearrange furniture, add a room divider, or, if necessary, cut a new door.

Legion Auxiliary Rummage Sale To Open March 29

Chinese dishes, brand new drapery remnants, a gas stove and high chair and crib are among the items bargain seekers will find at the Mill Valley American Legion Auxiliary's Rummage Sale next week, according to auxiliary president Mrs. Maurice Angland, general chairman.

The sale will be held March 29 through April 2 during the hours of 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Mill Valley American Legion Hall.

There will be an especially good selection of children's clothing, Mrs. Angland reports, as well as a good stock of plants, furniture, books and bric-a-brac. Proceeds from the sale will go into the auxiliary's general fund.

At the conclusion of the sale on Saturday, April 2, Mrs. Angland has planned a pot luck supper for all auxiliary members and their families.

At Home Shoes

The woman who slips into something more comfortable at the end of a long day will have an almost unlimited choice of lavishly designed, brilliantly hued slippers and "at home" shoes this spring. Pumps, sandals and mules in luxurious leathers are elegantly beaded and jeweled. These and a broad selection of casual slippers in softly smooth, grained and suede leather were shown at the spring preview of Leather Industries of America.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 28, the 88th day of the year, with 278 more days in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1797, Nathanial Briggs of New Hampshire received a patent for a washing machine.

In 1868, Russian writer Maxim Gorki was born.

In 1905, a current issue of the Ladies Home Journal reminded readers, "When planning a week's menus consider that on washing and ironing days there will be a steady fire and select some dish that takes long, slow cooking!"

In 1910, D. M. Graham patented false teeth.

In 1939, Madrid surrendered to the Nationalist forces of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

A thought for today: Journalist William Allen White said: "Consistency is a paste jewel that only cheap men cherish."

THE PARENTS' CORNER

With School Arts Program Curbed, It's Up To Parents To Fill The Gap

Are your children getting enough music in school, and enough art? Mine aren't getting as much as I think they need. They are being slighted in literature too.

Let's look at music, art and literature.

Two and one-half years ago Russia sent up its first sputnik. Our leaders were worried. They asked our schools to reorganize quickly, produce more scientists and engineers. Remember? The schools reorganized. They did a miraculous job.

But something had to give. There was just so much time available. If more math and science were to be taught, some subjects had to be reduced. Art, music and literature were the chief victims. Fewer and fewer children are taking them. Less and less time is being devoted to them.

Here's a prediction: Eventually our leaders will realize that these subjects are just as important as anything else. Eventually they'll ask for a better balance in our schools. Art, music and literature will come back.

But meantime our children are growing up. They can't wait for the return.

What can we parents do about it? Here's what we did in my family. We hunted up good music teachers, budgeted our money, made some sacrifices. We gave each one of our children lessons on at least two musical instruments. We went to an art gallery not far from home. We found Saturday art classes already being organized. We enrolled our children.

We took special pains to have good books around the house for them to read. Did you know that all the classics are available in paperbound editions? They cost less than a dollar each.

We parents can make up the loss to our children. I think we all should try.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My boy plays the clarinet. He wants to be in the school band, but the new schedule won't permit it. Is there any way he could get in?"

S.T.K.

(A) Arrange for him to take some of the required subjects during the high school summer session. Then he'll have time. Band membership is a wonderful experience.

THREE OF FOUR U.S. FAMILIES OWN VEHICLES

Nearly three out of every four American families now own automobiles.

Ownership of motor vehicles is at an all-time high. U.S. vehicle registrations totaled 70,400,000 in 1959 including 58,600,000 passenger cars and 11,800,000 trucks and buses.

Multi-car households have increased 67 per cent in the last five years. More than 18 per cent of car-owning families, or 13.5 per cent of all families, now own two or more automobiles.

Films Of Tahiti To Be Shown At Club

Pictures of Tahiti, New Zealand, Australia, and the Fiji Islands will be shown following the potluck dinner given by the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club Saturday at 7 p.m.

The pictures were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Babe Seamas on their recent trip through the South Pacific.

Permit Sought For Dredging

Tom E. Nowell of 360 Pine Hill road, Mill Valley, is seeking a Department of the Army permit to dredge and fill tidelots in Richardson Bay.

The property is located toward the bay from the Northwestern Pacific tracks and immediately east of the Highway 101 bridge across the bay.

Dredging would be conducted on a portion of Railroad avenue and some adjacent ground to the southeast, with fill to be applied on a part of Petaluma street and lots on either side, from Tulare to Parepa streets, with Bolinas street as the boundary toward the railroad.

Objections should be submitted in triplicate no later than April 23, according to notice by Col. John S. Harnett of the Corps of Engineers, 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco.

To Join Firm

William H. Noon of San Anselmo will join the firm of Norbert Cronin and Co., insurance, San Francisco, effective April 1. He has been assistant manager of Parrott and Co., San Francisco, for the past four and one half years.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

10 MILLIONTH ACROSS BRIDGE

Dean Hoagland of Fresno pays his toll at the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge toll plaza just like any of the 10 million drivers who have crossed the bridge since it opened three and one-half years ago. But after Lt. R. A. Schimmel took the toll, Hoagland discovered he was something special. T. Fred Bagshaw, assistant state director of public works, was on hand to present him a congratulatory letter from Gov. Edmund G. Brown. For Hoagland, who crossed about 4 p.m. yesterday, was driving the 10 millionth vehicle over the span. His payload: Canned milk. (Division of Highway photo)

Who'll Sell The Most Cars In '60?

DETROIT (AP) — Who'll sell the most cars in 1960? Will it be Chevrolet, the traditional leader, or can a newcomer creep in?

Chevrolet edged Forn in 1959 but the margin was close —a lot closer than Chevrolet officials had hoped. Final figures showed Chevrolet with 1,481,070 cars and Ford with 1,462,140, a difference of 18,930. Chevrolet had hoped for at least a 30,000 edge.

The picture is much more uncertain for the 1960 models because of the introduction of new, smaller cars by Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth—the big volume producers.

If the smaller car field is divided among the Big Three in the same way the standard car field has been, Chevrolet should have a good chance of holding its sales lead.

But this early, nobody can be sure that this pattern will hold.

TAX FACTS

Explain Each Detail On Your Return

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

When you sign your tax return, you state: "I declare under the penalties of perjury that this return (including any accompanying schedules and statements) has been examined by me and to the best of my knowledge and belief is a true, correct and complete return."

Peter J. Wikel

There is no reason for you to pay more taxes than the law prescribes or to be timid in taking every deduction permitted by law.

Your tax return should contain a full and clear explanation of every item entered thereon; and you should retain in your possession for at least six years, all pertinent papers, bills, checks, receipts, etc., in connection wth your return.

Uncle Sam has many sources of information concerning your income besides your tax return. In addition, your return is audited by a trained staff who have had experience with every conceivable method of avoiding or evading taxes. The Treasury has added a large number of employees to its staff and each return is due for a more thorough going over than in past years. These people are well trained and know their business, but they are not mind readers.

Be sure to fully explain every detail of your tax return on the return or on an attached statement so that Uncle Sam will understand exactly what you are doing.

Sausalito Group Slates Recreation Budget Meeting

A committee of three of the Sausalito Recreation Commission members will meet April 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of member Willard Hall to discuss budget problems for the 1960-61 fiscal year.

On the committee are Hall, Mrs. Phyllis Morena and John Minton. City Manager Charles A. Brown will also attend.

Development of a four-acre site adjoining Bayside School as a picnic and promenade park will be high on the list in the budget talk, chairman Minton said.

The commission also instructed the city manager to have the street department crew conduct a spring cleanup of the public beach at Valley street and to replace the city-owned raft in the water.

Alfred M. Arenz was named as Liaison between the commission and the citizens committee which is working on site planning for the central waterfront.

Dominican Sets Sacred Music Concert

The Dominican College Chorus, under direction of Winifred Baker, and the Dominican College A Capella Choir, directed by Philip Ienni, will present a concert of sacred music on Palm Sunday, April 10, at 3:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael. The program is open to the public.

The chorus will open the program with a world premiere performance of the "Salve Regina," which was composed for and dedicated to Mrs. Baker and the Dominican College Chorus by the late Dr. Hubert S. Middleton, former head of the School of Music at Cambridge University in England.

The work, completed in 1958, combines a sacred subject with a modern composition style, and contains sections for women's chorus and organ, and Cantor parts for solo baritone, in a style directly influenced by Gregorian and Byzantine chant models. Cantor for the performance will be Byron Jones, choral director at San Rafael High School. Organist will be Sister M. Francesca, O.P.

The Palm Sunday program will also include the "Lamentations of Jeremiah," by the 18th Century composer, Francois Couperin. This work will be sung by the chorus. Ienni will direct the A Capella choir in a group of 16th Century and contemporary motets.

March Of Dimes Campaign Figure $3,000 Over Top

The Marin County 1960 March of Dimes fund raising campaign has netted $48,000 so far, $3,000 more than the set goal, announced Nick Kobseff, campaign director.

Kobseff estimates that before the year is past the $50,000 mark will be passed.

The campaign director praised the people of Marin for a "job well done."

Alaska's flag—the Big Dipper and North Star on a blue field—was designed by 13-year-old Benny Benson, a resident of the Jesse Lee Home for Children at Seward.

A two-ticket race has developed in San Anselmo's city council election.

Making up one slate are incumbent Mayor Arthur W. Smith and Henry J. (Beck) Regalia, longtime resident and volunteer fireman.

On the opposing slate are two commuters newly active in municipal affairs: John M. Reichmuth and Robert E. Rouse. They have the backing of the newly organized San Anselmo Citizens for Good Government.

There is a race, also, for city treasurer, with incumbent George W. Prydz opposed by Mrs. Eleanor W. Henry.

Only unopposed candidate on the Hub City's April 12 ballot will be City Clerk Anita Gannon.

Two of the remaining council members are actively in the campaign: Mrs. Carmel H. Booth on behalf of Smith and Regalia, and Carleton G. Little on behalf of Reichmuth and Rouse.

Here are the candidates:

ARTHUR W. SMITH, 51, is owner of Art Smith's Variety Store, across San Anselmo avenue from the city hall. He has served on the city council since 1943 and has been mayor six of his years on the council.

Smith declared himself against tax increases and in favor of "the strictest economy in our city government."

"I am satisfied that the city government is running efficiently and economically," he said. He listed development of the Miracle Mile and Sir Francis Drake boulevard as top priority need, and advocated further study of relocating the central fire station.

"I am, and always have been, a full-time councilman—Saturdays and Sundays included," declared Smith.

Smith moved to San Anselmo in 1942 to join his father in operating the variety store, which was then the Ben Franklin Store. He and his wife live at 10 Bank street.

He is a native of Los Angeles and grew up in Chico. He completed his education at Heald's Business College. He has been active in the Cancer Society, Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and San Anselmo Rotary Club. He is a past president of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce.

HENRY J. (BECK) REGALIA, 54, is a retired Mare Island Navy Yard employee. He was born in San Rafael and grew up in San Anselmo.

Regalia declared he unqualifiedly endorses the San Anselmo master plan. He stressed that the city must remain solvent without an increase in taxes.

Pointing out that San Anselmo has little land left for building, Regalia said, "To broaden our tax base we must convert the older residential areas that are now run down to multiple use."

The candidate declared, "I am available 24 hours a day. I will give you, the voter, my undivided attention."

He said his only campaign promise is "to see that there are no promises with frills; that instead of 1,000 words you will have action."

Regalia, who lives with his wife, Rose, at 52 Woodland avenue and also owns rental property in San Anselmo, is probably best known as a volunteer fireman and former baseball player. He has been on the volunteer fire department since completing a hitch in the Navy in 1926.

In his younger days, he played baseball "on all the town teams in Marin," he said. He was also a member of San Anselmo's police reserve from 1936 to 1946. He completed his education at Tamalpais High School.

JOHN M. REICHMUTH, 43, is a sales engineer for Baker-Hamilton Co., San Francisco hardware wholesalers.

Reichmuth declared his interest in seeing how much of the tax dollar is spent on direct services to the people. San Anselmo, he said, has the municipal abilities "sufficient, at present levels, to handle a considerable population increase."

A San Anselmo resident since 1948, Reichmuth is critical of past city councils for lack of civic accomplishments.

Reichmuth is a Stanford University graduate with a degree in chemistry. He served in the Army from 1940 to 1946, emerging a lieutenant colonel. He and his wife, Barbara, and their son and daughter, Howard, 17, and Barbara, 15, reside at 405 Redwood road.

ROBERT E. ROUSE, 32, is a market analyst for Hexcel Products Co. of Berkeley. He has lived in San Anselmo since 1955.

"Many residents are seriously worried that, despite high city taxes, civic progress is at a standstill," he declared.

He suggested broadening the tax base by annexation of unincorporated lands bordering San Anselmo, and called for a program to encourage home building and business growth.

"A fresh approach to solving San Anselmo's civic problems is necessary to avert further delay in development of means to cope with the future growth problems," he declared.

Rouse is a graduate of University of California in Berkeley. He served in the Navy in World War II. He and his wife, Marcia, and their daughters, Kristy, 5, and Peggy, 3, live at 83 Jordan avenue. Before moving to San Anselmo, Rouse was a resident of Belvedere.

The two candidates for city treasurer are:

GEORGE W. PRYDZ, accountant, resides at 20 Woodland avenue. He was appointed city treasurer, at $50 a month, after the retirement of Police Chief Donald T. Wood, who had held the treasurer job as a $1-a-month sideline during his concluding year as police chief.

Prydz said he was not interested in making a statement of his aims or providing biographical information in connection with his candidacy.

ELEANOR W. HENRY has been a San Anselmo resident 28 years. She has worked on a part-time and temporary basis from time to time with the city clerk and city treasurer.

Mrs. Henry is the widow of Frank B. Henry. She resides at 29 Grove lane.

"Because I have been a resident of San Anselmo for 28 years and have worked as an extra in our city hall, I am familiar with the procedures. I am available at any time I am needed as I live close by. I have kept books for organizations and am fully capable of handling all reports required by the office of treasurer," she declared in a statement in connection with her candidacy.

Board To Eye Question Of Water Supply

An apparent gap in provisions of the county housing code with regard to required water supply for fire protection will be exposed at tomorrow's meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors. Steps to remedy the matter may be taken through adoption of a new ordinance.

The situation came to light through recent request of the Muir Woods Park Assn. which asked about buildings' water supply and caused the board to ask legal advice of County Counsel Leland H. Jordan as to its power to prohibit issuance of building permits conditional on adequate water.

Jordan's investigation is understood to have developed the point that under existing county ordinances the county building inspector may withhold permit if building supply isn't adequate for sanitation, but power is lacking to enforce sufficient water for fire protection.

Through board adoption of the Uniform Housing and Building Codes, Jordan found, the question of sufficient water for sanitation was covered but fire protection was not. Jordan is expected to point out that the supervisors have power to give the building inspector control as regards fire protection as well.

More communications both for and against the establishment of a Pt. Reyes National Park will be read to the board, alleged in some quarters to have put itself on record months ago as opposed by declared neutrality of the members individually.

LAW IN ACTION

Power To Search Is Rightly Safeguarded

(This column, prepared by California attorneys so you may know more about our laws, appears regularly in the Independent-Journal.)

The war on crime by the forces of law goes on day and night. Finding facts that will stand up in court is a hard, tedious work, without which catching crooks is of no avail.

From time to time the officers ask for new laws to meet new conditions.

Until a few years ago, for example, no judge could lawfully issue a search warrant to get evidence of a crime, such as hair, fingerprints, and the like. Under a new law a judge may do so.

For with the inroads of crime, we seek and find advances in crime detection. Among other things, the warrant may order an officer to search for and get any evidence which tends to show that someone has done a serious crime.

Since no judge himself can or should keep such evidence, the officer—say the sheriff or police chief—may keep it subject to court order.

This is common sense, but it is important for the law to name the keepers of evidence and hold them responsible.

Again, a judge may still examine witnesses before he issues a warrant, but he no longer needs to under the law. In a large city, judges may issue thousands of warrants in a short time, and cannot well go into details with witnesses the way the police can.

Still, the judge can, any time he wants to. In this, the new law just codifies and makes uniform the present practice.

The power to search places and seize evidence is rightly safeguarded. So far as can be, the law aims to protect citizens from unlawful search and seizure, yet not to hamper law officers in catching criminals.

Well Known Marinites Serve Firm

Progressive president of the Marin Savings and Loan Association is Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, a third generation Marinite who was elected to the Marin Savings and Loan Association Board of Directors, as Director and Attorney, in 1925. He served as vice president prior to being elected president in 1958. He is the second generation serving on the Board of directors as director and attorney as he succeeded his father, Senator E. B. Martinelli.

Judge Martinelli, who entered law practice in 1920 with his father, E. M. Martinelli, was elected city attorney of San Rafael for seven four-year terms. He also served for twenty years as city attorney of Sausalito, Larkspur, Ross and Fairfax.

Judge Martinelli was a member of the firm of Martinelli, Gardiner and Riede from 1934-49. He was appointed to the Marin County superior court bench by Governor Earl Warren. He served as associate justice of the appellate court in San Francisco in 1958. For eight years (1950-58) he was judge of the Marin County Juvenile court. Judge Martinelli was born in San Rafael, attended San Rafael public schools, was graduated from San Rafael high school where he was president of the student body; attended Santa Clara College and received his B.A. in 1919 from St. Ignatius College (now University of San Francisco). It was the year 1886, the latter part of July, when preliminary steps for incorporation of a building and loan association in San Rafael were first started. Subscriptions for shares were taken at that time at the office of Wood, Christieson & Co. By the third Tuesday in August of that same year an initial meeting was held and the financial firm was ready for business.

George H. Powers was the first president, and James P. Christieson was the first secretary.

Since 1886 Marin County Savings and Loan Association has been an integral part of the Marin County business community, constantly concerned with its improvement and growth. From the very beginning prominent citizens have been the backbone of our organization. Early investors were such public spirited men as Thomas Wintringham, Salvatore Pacheco, William Vanderbilt, Frank Avery, R. W. Johnson, S. C. Mahon, L. A. Lancel, F. M. Angelotti, Richard Kinsella, William Babcock, P. H. Cochrane, James W. Cochrane, Hepburn Wilkins, George Cheda, R. H. Pond, William Curlett, Geo. H. Powers, H. P. Wood, C. P. Pomeroy, W. N. Anderson, S. F. Barstow, Geo. M. Dodge, Arthur Crosby and C. Grosjean. Other well known early day residents of Marin County who invested in our firm were E. S. Rake, Evan C. Evans and Frank K. Zook.

First of three generations in Marin County Savings and Loan Association was Senator E. B. Martinelli, legal counsel in the early 1900s. His son, Supreme Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, is currently president of the firm, while the third generation is represented by Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., secretary and assistant manager.

Ground breaking ceremonies on June 17, 1959 for the new home of Marin County Savings and Loan Association at 990 Fifth avenue and Court street in San Rafael were highlighted by an address by Superior Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, president of the association, who recalled much of the early history surrounding the area which was formerly a part of the grounds where old Mission San Rafael Arcangel was founded in 1817.

Judge Martinelli was presented a living branch from the only remaining pear tree of that era by his wife as a symbol (hence the pear tree on the cover.

The historic site of the new offices of Marin County Savings and Loan Association was once owned by the first superior judge in Marin County, Judge Joseph Almy, who bought the property on Jan. 6, 1872. Later is was owned by John H. Saunders, grandfather of the late Jack Saunders, former Marin County Tax Collector. After being sold to Cora B. Smith it was purchased by Maxmillian Herzog and was held by his heirs until purchased last spring by the rapidly expanding financial firm.

Superior Judge Martinelli wielded a shovel and construction began immediately by the Richard Zoellner Construction Company of Ross.

Over a hundred guests, neighbors and business friends were present. Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president and manager, introduced the Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, San Rafael, who delivered the invocation.

Mayor John McInnis of San Rafael commented on the fine new addition to the city, and a benediction by the Rev. James E. Cain of St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael concluded the ceremonies.

Since that time the sketch of a structure has changed from a rough outline to the completed home.

Saturday marked the move of Marin County Savings and Loan Association into their spacious new home. A formal dedication took place at 2 o'clock. Officiating at the dedication of the formal opening was Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president and manager of the firm which will celebrate its 74th anniversary in July.

Giving the invocation was the Rev. Daniel McAllister, administrator of St. Raphael's Catholic Church of San Rafael.

Superior Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, president of Marin's oldest savings and loan association, delivered the welcoming address and gave some of the history of the association and area on which the new home is situated.

Participating in the ribbon cutting ceremony were Walter Castro, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; John McInnis, mayor of San Rafael; Sen. Jack McCarthy; Burton Kirchner, president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce; Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom; as well as Fred F. Enemark and Judge Martinelli.

Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church of San Rafael, gave the benediction.

Following the dedication, to which many dignitaries and county and state officials had been invited, an open house was held until six o'clock.

The new home reflects an investment of nearly $450,000, according to Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president and manager of the savings and loan association.

The rapidly expanding firm, located at 1219 Fourth street, San Rafael, for nearly 74 years, needed a larger home to better serve their customers.

According to Enemark the new location will prove much more convenient as it is in close proximity to the center of the San Rafael shopping area.

The Marin County Savings and Loan Association specializes in just two things—savings and real estate loans—and is looking forward to a period of great prosperity, according to Enemark, who states:

"We are thrilled and happy to progress with Marin County and know that our company's growth is a direct result of Marin County's growth, and our increasing ability to serve the thousands of new residents.

"Our savings and loan business attracts new customers all the time because we can offer 50 per cent more interest to the saver than he can obtain in many savings institutions. We are government insured and maintain high reserves in excess of requirements.

"Our Board is composed of local business men whose aim is to safely produce the greatest revenue for the saver."

Structure Built By Zoellner Building Co.

Richard (Dick) Zoellner, whose Ross construction company built Marin County Savings and Loan Association's new home, is a Bay Area native with long experience in the construction business.

His work in Marin County is very well known, and includes many schools. Zoellner's firm built second additions on the Kent and Greenbrae schools, an addition to Cummings School, a second addition on the Olive Street and Hill Road Schools, the Arts and Crafts Santa Venetia Junior High School, and additions to Hoffman School, Fairfax School and Coleman School. The company also has done construction work on Tamalpais High School; made the last addition to Davidson School in San Rafael, and was responsible for the new Science Building at the San Rafael High School.

Zoellner will soon be starting additions to the Coleman School in San Rafael and the Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield.

The firm was started in the summer of 1947 with small remodeling contracts and work at Camp Taylor, Hamilton Field and Travis Air Force Base.

Zoellner started his career after Tamalpais High School with two years work on the construction of the Golden Gate Bridge, most of it on the catwalks during the spinning of the cable.

Following this experience, which would be harrowing to others, Zoellner worked for the Bureau of Public Roads surveying in the Tahoe area, for shipyards, and after college was commissioned an Ensign in the Civil Engineering Corps of the Navy.

While he was stationed in Rhode Island, Zoellner met his wife, an officer in the Navy Nurse Corps, met her again at Pearl Harbor and twice on Guam. They were married in 1946.

Zoellner was born in 1917 in San Francisco. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Zoellner.

RICHARD (DICK) ZOELLNER has been a general contractor for 10 years in Marin county, specializing in industrial construction.

He went to Ross Grammar School, to Tamalpais High School, to Marin Junior College and to Oregon State where he was graduated in civil engineering. He has lived in Ross since he was 3 years old. He and Mrs. Zoellner have three youngsters, Aurelia (Ricki), who is eleven years old; Richard (Dick), who is eight; and Elizabeth (Liz), who is six years old.

Zoellner is a member of Kiwanis Club in San Rafael. He is an Eagle Scout and has spent thirty years in Scoutings. He is a parishioner at St. John's Church in Ross.

The firm's address is Ivy Drive, Ross, California.

Landscaping

Henry Cole was landscape artist for the new Marin County Savings and Loan Association. Planting was done by the Sunnyside Nursery in San Anselmo.

Marin Native Supervised Construction

Certainly one of the most important men connected with the arduous job of creating and finishing a large business building is Robert W. Upton, who is superintendent of construction for the Zoellner Building Company and therefore directly responsible for many phases of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association's new building.

Upton's father had the distinction of being the first white child born on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula. His father was the late Judge A. H. Upton, well-known early citizen of Marin County.

Upton lived in Stinson Beach for forty years before moving recently with his wife and their six children to Larkspur.

The fine craftsmanship for which Upton is responsible on this particular job has resulted in an unusually beautiful contemporary exterior highlighted by a copper fascia to set off the walls of glass, stucco and Haydite.

ROBERT W. UPTON, general superintendent of construction for the Zoellner firm was on the job every day during the construction of the new home of the Marin County Savings and Loan and supervised all details.

EUGENE A. CRAWFORD, A.I.A., of the firm of Crawford and Banning has been a corporate member of the American Institute of Architects for 12 years.

GEORGE V. BANNING, A.I.A., joined with Eugene Crawford in January of 1959 to form a partnership in the bay area.

Well Known Marin Architects Designed Savings, Loan 'Home'

Eugene Crawford, A.I.A., of the San Rafael firm of Banning and Crawford is not only an outstanding architect, but a prominent member of the community. His firm was directly responsible for the artistic conception of the building and grounds and for the careful supervision of plans during construction.

Crawford organized his partnership with Banning in 1959, as a successor to a practice Crawford had started in 1948 in Mill Valley. Crawford's office was moved to San Rafael in 1951 and the first location was on the very site of the new offices of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association, certainly a coincidence which speaks for a profitable and pleasant association between the two firms.

Crawford is a native of Wilimington, Delaware, and received his degree in architecture from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1941. For five years immediately following graduation he was an engineering officer with the U.S. Navy, receiving his discharge as a Lieutenant Commander in 1945. From that time until 1948 he was associated with several architectural offices on the East Coast and in San Francisco. He moved to his present home in Mill Valley in 1947.

Professionally, Crawford has had an active career. He has been a corporate member of the American Institute of Architects for twelve years, has served in the past as a lecturer in Architectural Design at the University of California, and has been active on various committees of the American Institute of Architects and of the California Council of Architects.

He has been a Rotarian for ten years and has worked actively for United Crusade, as president of the Marin United Fund, County campaign chairman, Vice President and member of the Board of Governors of the United Bay Area Crusade. He served five years as a member and chairman of the Mill Valley Planning Commission and two years as director of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce. He is currently completing two years service as a director of the Marin Builders' Exchange.

George V. Banning, A.I.A. who was one of the two architects of the local firm responsible for the artistic conception of the new offices of Marin County Savings and Loan Association, has been a Californian since 1945.

He is a graduate of Princeton University in 1938 and received a graduate degree in architecture from Harvard University in 1941. He was born in Hackensack, New Jersey.

Banning served four years in the U.S. Navy during World War II, first as captain of a landing craft and later as a group commander. He was discharged as a Lieutenant in 1945.

For the next ten years Banning lived in San Francisco and was associated with several architectural firms there. In 1955 he built his present home in Belvedere and a year later joined the office of Eugene C. Crawford in San Rafael. Its present location is 15 West End Avenue, San Rafael. He became a partner in 1959.

Like his partner, Banning is a corporate member of the American Institute of Architects. He has also served as Trustee and Treasurer of the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco for many years.

Marin Talent Used In Planning, Building

Plans for the new home of Marin County Savings and Loan Association were announced in late 1958 and business leaders in the community hailed the addition of this beautiful new building as another fine landmark in the progress of San Rafael.

As designed by the architectural firm of Crawford and Banning, San Rafael, with Eugene Crawford, A.I.A., and George Banning, A.I.A., drawing up the plans, the two story building is of modern steel and concrete construction. The total floor area is 12,070 square feet of which approximately 6000 square feet will be occupied by Marin County Savings and Loan Association. About 2000 square feet of the ground floor area and 3500 feet of the second story will be occupied by tenants. The second floor will be reached by an elevator.

It was emphasized by the Association's officers from the beginning that Marin County talent would be used to design and complete the building as nearly as possible, since Marin County Savings and Loan Association has always concentrated its activities in Marin County, and the Association's officers and directors have always been active in Marin County civic projects.

The general contractor for the construction of the steel, frame, Haydite, tile and copper sheathed building was the Zoellner Construction Company of Ross with Robert L. Upton as general superintendent for the job.

Haydite specially tinted to blend with the copper fascia was furnished by the McNear Company of San Rafael.

Tile for the building was furnished by Hopkins Tile Company of San Rafael.

The copper installation was done by Ernest Ongaro of San Anselmo.

Structural engineers for the project was Graham and Hayes of San Francisco, and the electrical engineer was Ben B. Lezin of San Francisco.

The beautiful job of painting was done by Giampolini & Company of San Rafael.

Manager Fred F. Enemark says that the most modern equipment has been installed in the building. It is completely air conditioned throughout the entire structure, with the most modern equipment available supplying clean, washed, humidified air to every section of the building. The elevator for use of second floor tenants and their clients is the most modern.

The architectural design of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association building is unique in many ways. It will allow large outside areas for ornamental planting to insure a pleasant and home-like appearance. The rear of the property will be occupied by a customers' Parking Lot, with ample space for a large number of cars. A feature of the parking lot will be the unusual use of available space, even to the extent that two parking places are designated specifically for sports cars. A lot has also been acquired in the same block to provide additional parking spaces and will be reserved wholly for the officers and employees of Marin County Savings and Loan Association and the tenants of the new building.

An additional beauty feature of the new building is the recessed garden-type entrance to welcome the Association's customers, with a drinking fountain and concrete bench.

Quality materials have been used throughout, and the final result, San Rafael citizens have agreed, is an important addition to the many other beautiful structures in Marin County, as well as those now under construction or being designed by fine local architectural firms such as Crawford and Banning of San Rafael.

The Board of Directors of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association has expressed their considerable pleasure in the beautiful results of the long-formulated plans of their new home.

CONGRATULATIONS

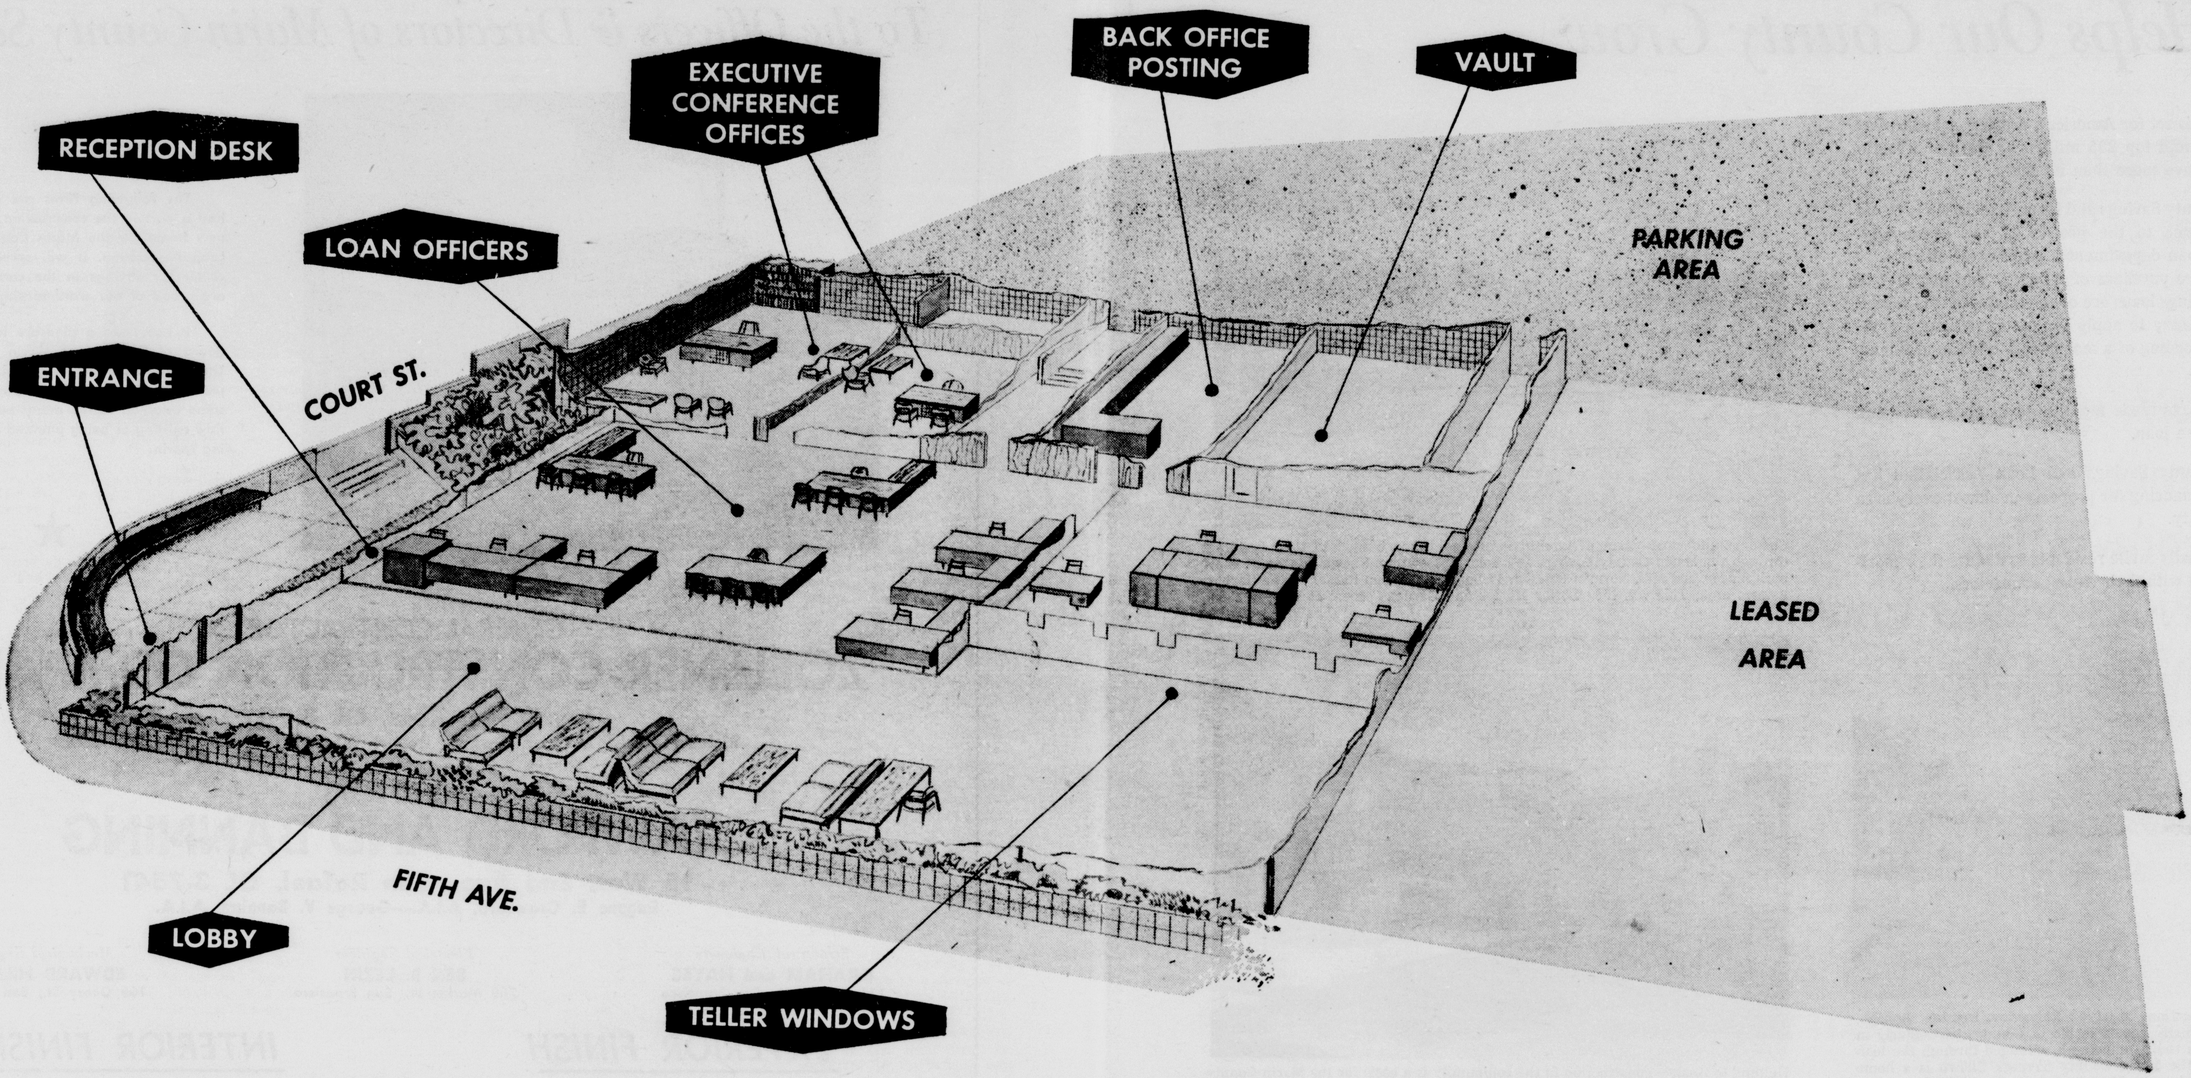
This is how the interior of Marin County Savings new home will look... come, see for yourself!



UNUSUAL MODERN DECOR ENHANCES NEW OFFICES OF ASSOCIATION

All of the customers of Marin County Savings and Loan Association will admire the handsome and spacious interior. Decorated in warm-earth tones, you will find loomed carpets and hand-woven draperies to harmonize with the functional business and office furniture and the individually chosen accessories.

Robert Lopshire was responsible for the interior decorating and furnishings through The Cunneen Company, specialists in financial institutional design.

Expert planning was necessary to create this as a harmonious and pleasing whole, aesthetically speaking, and to make sure that at the same time the office eliminates any strain on employees, any confusion to customers and is completely workable throughout.

NOTICE THE EXPERTLY PLANNED CONVENIENT FLOOR PLAN SHOWN ABOVE

In the artist's drawing above you will see the functional aspects of the interior of Marin County Savings and Loan Association. Each component has been planned to eliminate traffic problems and create a harmonious and workable flow for work, personnel and customers.

Just inside the entrance is a reception desk where a receptionist will greet customers. There is a welcoming lobby with tables and chairs for the use of customers and clients of the Association. You will find the loan officers of the Association in a special section. The executive offices have been functionally designed.

In one corner of the main floor is an office for posting and the two-story vault. Five teller windows and desks are ranged just in front of these. The office is planned to immediately accommodate a working personnel of fourteen.

BACKGROUND MUSIC TO PLEASE YOU AND MAKE YOU WISH TO VISIT US OFTEN

As you enter the new home of Marin County Savings and Loan Association, you will be delighted to hear soft, pleasant and soothing music . . . a delightful accompaniment to the friendly atmosphere.

It has been proved that a background of soft music is a definite aid in keeping happy and maintaining a brisk working tempo through the busy day. So it is a definite boon to employees, as well as to customers.

The new, modern SEEburg "1000" was supplied by Catania Sound of San Rafael, another example of Marin County Savings and Loan Association using a local firm as suppliers in every possible instance.

We are proud of the superior workmanship of Marin County contractors and of the services and supplies furnished by Marin County business firms.

MAIN FLOOR COMPRISES 4,000 FEET OF WORKING AREA AND LOBBY

The main floor of the new offices of Marin County Savings and Loan Association includes 4000 square feet of working area, with separate offices for Executive Vice President and Manager Enemark and Assistant Manager and Secretary Martinelli.

The interior walls of the contemporary building are finished in walnut. Rich carpeting and warm curtaining create a subdued and restful effect.

The second story has a director's conference room, employees' lunch room and rest rooms.

HANDSOME MURAL BY MARIN ARTISTS GRACES NEW LOBBY TO ADD DISTINCTION

An outstanding part of the interior decor of the new offices of Marin County Savings and Loan Association will be a mural in the lobby composed of walnut and brass with accents of copper. It was created by Lucienne Bloch and her husband, Stephen Pope Dimitroff, both of Mill Valley, who are nationally known artists.

The outline of the mural is the map of Marin County long identified with the signature cut of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association, who have been headquarters for savings in Marin for almost three quarters of a century.

How Financing of Marin Property Helps Our County Grow...

The stage is set for America's greatest growth. Our population should top 205 million by 1970 and Marin County will have more than its share.

Marin County Savings and Loan Association is proud of its assistance to the growth of the community. Through its loan department a resident of Marin may arrange for the purchase of a home. Ten per cent of the Marin Savings loans are open-end mortgages so that it is not necessary to apply for costly refinancing, rewriting or recording of a mortgage if additional financing is needed.

Payments are made monthly to fit your needs and the term of the loan.

Marin County Savings and Loan Association has handled the financing for property in almost every area of Marin County.

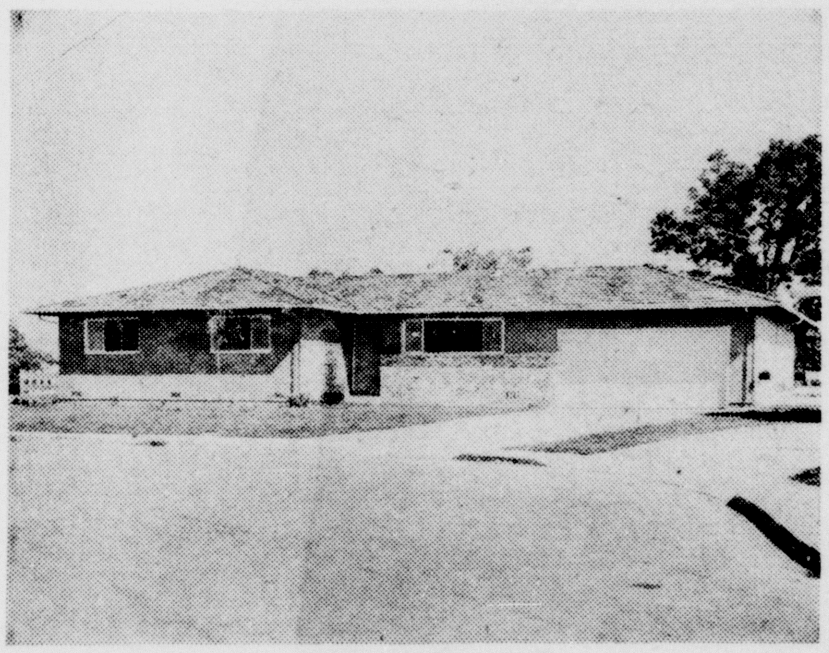
Custom Builders of Marin, 47 Louise, San Rafael, finance much of their building through the Marin County Savings and Loan Association. Shown is a home they built for Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rawson, 41 Loma Linda, San Rafael, in the Harbor Estates area. This was the "Better Homes and Gardens" Ideal Home for 1959. (Les Walsh photo)



Kaehler Construction Co., 1203 Ridgeview Heights, Ignacio, builds a great many homes in Marin County, particularly in Novato. Helping to finance construction in the community is a basis for the Marin County Savings and Loan's operation. The firm is proud of financing these Corte Lenosa Apartments built by the William H. McDevitt Company of San Rafael through their "site to completion building program" which were constructed in the Greenbrae area for the Belmarin Corporation. (Ken Molino photo)

Reminisences of Early Marin Days in Pictorial Review

64 Pages of Interesting Old Photographs of Long Ago!

The beautiful new picture review of "Early Days In Marin," which is being presented to every visitor to our new home, is the result of the generosity of Marin County residents who responded to our search by sending in their treasured photographs.

It was hard to decide which pictures to use as all of them were so good. However, the Selections Committee after careful evaluation picked what they considered the most representative scenes for all of Marin County.

Judges were William P. Murray, president of the First National Bank of San Rafael; Nicholas K. Boyd of San Rafael; and Mrs. Florence Donnelly, Society Editor of the Independent-Journal and a member of the Marin County Historical Society. Mrs. Donnelly also acted as research editor for the souvenir book.

Pictures in many instances depicted scenes no longer in existence, and some of the pictures have never before been available to Marin residents. It is anticipated that the book will create wide interest and Fred F. Enemark, Executive Vice President and Manager, intends to see that all public and school libraries are furnished with copies of this historical review.

The book is beautifully printed on soft warm beige paper with a cover in orange and brown ink and printing, pictures and reproductions are also in brown ink. The cover scene depicts the old Mission San Rafael Arcangel established in 1817 and is from an original painting by Dr. Scott Polland of Ross.
